

TREMENDOUS VOTE IS CAST

FAIR WEATHER BRINGS VOTERS TO POLLS IN ALL PARTS OF NATION

New York, Nov. 7.—Fair weather, generally through the country, except in the Upper Mississippi Valley and in Western Colorado, accompanied by agreeable temperature, brought out the voting hosts early today. Reports at noon from practically all sections indicated that a heavy vote had been cast and some points reported that the bulk of the vote was in before 10 a. m. The big early vote was something of a surprise to politicians and caused much conjecture.

New Ashford, a small Massachusetts town, had the distinction of making the first returns. The town has 23 voters this year and when the polls closed at ten this morning the count showed this result: Hughes, 16; Wilson, 7. In 1912 New Ashford gave Wilson, 4; Taft, 7, and Roosevelt, 6.

All of the New England states indicated a strong drift for Wilson in the early report of the voting.

Providence, R. I., reported throughout the state it was the heaviest ever known. New York state and other middle Atlantic states all reported an unusually large early vote and similar reports came from the west and south, indicating keen and even eager interest everywhere.

President Wilson motored from Shadow Lawn to Princeton in the early morning and voted ballot number 50 shortly after 9 o'clock. He will receive the returns at Shadow Lawn.

Charles E. Hughes in New York voted ballot number 13, a few minutes after seven o'clock this morning at a voting place near his hotel, where he will receive the returns tonight. The fair weather and heavy early voting was apparently pleasing news to those in charge at both Republican and Democratic headquarters, as both sides expressed gratification in the course of the counts.

Chairman Wm. R. Willeox, of the Republican committee, was early at his desk receiving telegraphic reports. Chairman Vance C. McCormick, of the Democratic committee, was in Harrisburg, Penn., to vote but was expected to return to his desk here later in the day.

Political observers are in doubt as to just when the election results will become known. They incline to the opinion that it will be later than recent years because of the complex situation resulting in the number of women who will vote and other causes.

"The fight is won. We have Republican weather and it's all over but the shouting," said Chairman Willeox at noon after hearing the reports of all over the country. He declared that the result of the returns at New Ashford, Mass., "indicative of the whole country."

Chairman McCormick, of the Democratic committee had not at that hour returned from Harrisburg. But the officials in charge declared that reports received Wichita, Kas., Nov. 7.—Incomplete returns from the 26 precincts in this city give Wilson 1080; Hughes, 808. Capper, (R) for governor, 925, and Lansdon, (D) for governor, 923; Wilson, (R.) for congressman, eighth district, 674 and Ayres, (D.) for re-election, 898.

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 7.—Incomplete returns from 25 out of 32 precincts in Topeka compiled at noon today show the following: Hughes 1389 and Wilson 974. In 23 precincts the incomplete vote for governor gives Capper 1391; Lansdon 501. The city is normally Republican.

Kansas City, Nov. 7.—Incomplete returns given out here at noon by election judges for nine of the 108 precincts of Wyandotte county, Kansas, including Kansas City, Kansas, gave Hughes 378, Wilson 329.

New Bedford, Mass., Nov. 7.—One-third of the city tabulated at 2:45 p. m. gives Hughes 1,020; Wilson 1,737. The polls closed at 2 o'clock.

HUGHES VOTES EARLY

New York, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Charles Evans Hughes cast his vote at 7:05 o'clock this morning in a small laundry at 716 Eighth Avenue, almost directly back of the hotel where he made his headquarters during the campaign. His ballot was numbered 13. When his attention was called to this, the Republican candidate said: "13" was his lucky number.

"And I was born on Friday, too," he added. Mr. Hughes went to the polls before breakfast. When he saw the weather conditions indicating a clear cool day, he remarked: "It looks like a good Republican day."

A small crowd, among whom were several newspaper photographers, greeted him as he entered the voting place.

NEGROES ARRESTED

St. Louis, Nov. 7.—An extremely heavy early vote was cast throughout Missouri. It was estimated 40,000 votes were cast in St. Louis in the first two hours. One hundred and fifty negroes were arrested here for alleged attempts to vote illegally. The polls closed at 7 p. m.

The Republican leaders charged that the arrests were part of a plan to intimidate negro voters. In many precincts Democratic challengers with long lists of names questioned the right of dozens of negroes to vote.

FEUD LEADS TO DEATH

Bellaire, O., Nov. 7.—Wilbur Israel, 33, was shot and killed this morning police say, by William Truax, 35, as the result of an old feud which was renewed when the two met today.

SILVER BULLION

New London, Conn., Nov. 7.—Six and one-half tons of silver bullion from the mint at San Francisco were unloaded here today at the railroad station by an express company and transported to the German merchant submarine Deutschland, moored at the state pier, for shipment across the ocean. The metal was conveyed through the streets in five open wagons without armed guards and few persons who saw the wagons suspected that $150,000 worth of property was being moved in that fashion.

Tiffin, O., Nov. 7.—Stogie makers employed at a local plant, who walked out last Wednesday, when their demands for increased wages were refused, resumed work today. The increase will be granted, effective January 1.

BRITISH
ADVANCE

London, Nov. 7.—Gains by British troops in the neighborhood of Butte de Warlencourt, on the Somme front, during operations last night, were announced today by that war office.

Russian Bridgehead

Captured By Germans
Berlin, Nov. 7.—(By wireless to Sayville)—On the Somme front yesterday the British made an attack near Eaucourt L'Abbaye, but were immediately beaten back, the war office announced today.

The capture of a Russian bridgehead on the Stokhod is reported by the war office. On the northern part of the front between Dvinsk and Lake Narocz, Russian artillery is displaying marked activity.

On the Transylvanian front, in the region of Tulghes, the Russians yesterday forced back Austro-German troops, it is announced officially. The Teutonic forces gained ground west of Bodza Pass.

Near Rothenhurn Pass the Austrians and Germans advanced and took more than 1,000 prisoners.

London, Nov. 7.—A claim that two dreadnaughts were hit by the British submarine which yesterday was reported launching a torpedo at and striking a German dreadnaught in the North Sea, is contained in a further report received from the commanding officer of the submarine, it was officially announced today. The two dreadnaughts claimed to have been struck were battleships of the Kaiser class.

The naval registers show five dreadnaught battleships of the Kaiser class, all completed between October, 1912, and August 1913. Besides the named ship of the class they are the Friedrich Der Grosse, Kaiserin, Prinz Regent, and Kaiserin. The displacement of each is 24,700 tons, length 564 feet, beam 95 feet and draft 27 feet. Their armament consists of ten 12 inch guns, fourteen six-inch guns, twelve 24 pounders and four anti-aircraft guns. They are equipped with five torpedoes tubes, submerged. The Kaiser's best speed record is given as 23.6 knots.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—(By wireless to Sayville)—"The sinking of a British small cruiser off the Irish coast by a German submarine has increased the total British losses in battleship and cruisers to 501,700 tons," says an Overseas News Agency announcement today. "This does not include British auxiliary cruisers, submarines, torpedo boats or guardships lost."

"According to the known strength of the British navy at the beginning of the war, it has lost 14 per cent of its battleships, 30 per cent of its armored cruisers and 14 per cent of its protected cruisers. Thirty-nine ships of a total of 443,000 tons have been destroyed by German naval forces."

"The extent of the British losses is notable in view of the fact that at the beginning of the war the French navy's tonnage was 497,000 and the Italian navy's 335,000. "Moreover the British navy has lost 50 torpedo boats, of 71,500 tons and 76 submarines. "The figures given take into consideration only those losses regarding which no doubt exists."

The reference in the foregoing to a British warship sunk off the Irish coast doubtless concerns the German admiralty announcement on Nov. 5 that a small British cruiser of old construction had been sunk by a German submarine off the west coast of Ireland. The British admiralty in its comment on the German report stated it was evident that the announcement referred to the sinking of the British minesweeper or Genista, the loss of which was announced on October 26.

ALL RECORDS FOR HEAVY
VOTE WILL BE BROKEN
IN OHIO, CLAIM OFFICIALS

Columbus, O., Nov. 7.—Weather conditions throughout Ohio are favorable today and after one of the most strenuous presidential campaigns ever waged in this state, an exceptionally heavy vote is expected. Early voting bears out the prediction of political leaders that the vote will probably be the largest in the history of the state with estimates running as high as a million and a quarter votes.

In addition to the national ticket, a complete state ticket will be voted upon. While the presidential race attracts the most attention, the contests between Atlas Pomeroy, Democrat, for re-election, and Myron T. Herrick and Frank R. Willis for re-election, and former Governor James M. Cox, are being closely watched. Both sides continue today to claim the election of state and national tickets by pluralities ranging up to 100,000.

LICKING COUNTY

Newark, O., Nov. 7.—Fair weather was responsible for early voting in Newark and Licking county. In many of the city precincts one-third of the vote were in before 7:30 o'clock. Newark's registration fell short about 300 votes over that of 1912 and polls of the various precincts made since registration, indicate that many voters failed to register.

SUMMIT COUNTY

Akron, O., Nov. 7.—Summit county voters went to the polls early today. It is estimated that more than 35,000 votes will be polled here. In the betting 10 to 8 offered on Wilson to carry the county found few takers. Weather conditions are ideal.

SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, O., Nov. 7.—Unprecedented early voting is going on here today. It is estimated by party leaders that a 9 o'clock half of the vote of the city had been cast. This held good in both Republican and Democratic precincts. The voting is being quickly done, giving evidence of little scratching of ballots.

Springfield is voting on a proposal to increase the public school levy one mill each year for the next five years.

TOLEDO

Toledo, O., Nov. 7.—Election officials predict a heavy vote, probably 30,000 today. Interest is intense in national, state and county tickets and several proposed large bond issues. The weather is fair and warm.

COX VOTED EARLY

Dayton, O., Nov. 7.—More than one-third of the vote in the city of Dayton was out two hours after the booths opened today; a new record in voting here. Weather conditions throughout the Miami valley were reported ideal and an immense vote is counted upon.

James M. Cox, Democratic candidate for governor, voted early and was at his desk in his newspaper office a short time later.

Columbus, O., Nov. 7.—With the heaviest registration in the history of this city, political leaders today expect an exceptionally large vote to be cast here. Weather conditions are ideal and voting started in with a rush at the opening of the polls.

U-BOAT AND DESTROYER IN DUEL, BOTH SUNK

Rome, Monday, Nov. 6 (via Paris)—An Austrian submarine and an Italian destroyer were sunk in a duel on the night of October 16, according to an official statement issued by the admiralty today. The submarine had attacked a transport which escaped.

The text of the statement follows:

"An Austrian submarine attempted on the night of October 16-17 to torpedo one of our transports conveying troops but was discovered and attacked by a convoying destroyer. The submarine and the destroyer sank while the transport reached its destination safely. The majority of the crew of the destroyer was saved and the two officers and eleven men of the crew of the submarine were made prisoner."

"On the night of November 1, our destroyers, after crossing boldly and successfully entering a mine zone and surmounting by their daring solid obstacles defending the Fasana-Pola canal managed to enter the customary anchorage of part of the Austrian fleet. Two torpedoes were fired against one large ship and were observed to catch in the vessel's torpedo net."

"For two hours our destroyers reconnoitered within a few hundred yards of the forts and strong citadel of Pola and were only withdrawn when they had accomplished difficult and most delicate missions. Numerous powerful searchlights beat the sky and sea and batteries opened random and futile fire."

"On the night of November 3, several of our destroyers sank a large Austrian steamer anchored at Durazzo under the shelter of defenses and a mine zone. Enemy destroyers came out and were attacked by our ships which forced their retreat. Our destroyers then returned safely to their base. On November 5 three enemy destroyers appeared at dawn before Santa Fidiolmare and began to bombard that part of the coast. One of our armored trains rushed up, engaged and drove off the enemy. Two destroyers were hit and one was seen with a heavy list being assisted by others. The enemy fire was ineffective, one railroad man being slightly wounded and small damage done to private property."

Three Releases Are Handed Out By Matty

Cincinnati, Nov. 7.—Manager Mathewson has started cleaning up the Reds by disposing of three players whose services he feels will be of no use to the team next season.

The trio of athletes already let out, consists of pitcher Heinie Schultz, infielder Bob Fisher and outfielder George Twombly. Matty saw enough of these men last summer and fail to be convinced that they will do better somewhere else.

Waiters have been asked and secured on all three and they will go to the minors. The Toledo club has put in a claim for Heinie Schultz and will doubtless secure him, though the deal has not yet been closed. Twombly returns to Baltimore and Fisher has not yet been disposed of.

Schultz was purchased last spring from the Federal League. He was formerly with the New York Americans.

An Effective Laxative For Growing Children

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Highly Recommended as a Family Remedy

In children the slightest irregularity of the bowels has a tendency to disturb the entire digestive system, and unless promptly remedied invites serious illness. The experienced mother knows that by training her children to regularity in this respect, and when occasion arises, administering a mild laxative, she will have the need for the doctor's services.

Yes, Leo Weigand, 3251 Central Avenue, N. S., Pittsburgh, Pa., whose two boys, Frank and Joseph, are shown in the illustration, writes that she has found Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin a most effective laxative, not only for the children but also for herself. It is in the house to use when needed. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that acts easily and naturally, without griping or other pain or discomfort. It is pleasant to the taste so that children like it, and is equally effective on the strong.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be obtained at any drug store for fifty cents, and should have a place in every home. It will save many times its cost in lessened doctor bills and maintain the health of the entire family. To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes be sure to get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 435 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

HAS LOCATED OWNER OF CAR

That Ford touring car with a Kentucky state license tag when caused Police Clerk Harry Johnson a number of sleepless nights is not a stolen machine after all. Harry, after days of quiet investigation, has located the owner of the car. He is a man who recently moved to Portsmouth from a city in Kentucky occupying a home on Young street. He left the car standing on a vacant lot where it remained several days and nights causing passers-by to suspect it had been abandoned. Someone reported the presence of the car there to the police and it was not until Monday that Johnson encountered the owner.

Annual Reports Read

Troop 8 held a splendid session last night at the home of Scout Maurice Mendel, 1801 Grandview avenue. There were only five members absent out of a membership of 35. James Scott, newly elected patrol leader, was officially installed. Harold Bierley read an excellent paper on "Troop Leaders." Then came the reading of Annual Reports as follows: "Patrol Leaders" by Arthur Eisenmaugle; "Meetings and Membership" by Corwin Knowles; "Athletics" by Darsie Hamilton; "East End Bugle" by James Scott. All of these were interesting and were accepted by the troop.

Senior Patrol Leader Eisenmaugle then announced the following committees for 1917: Athletic Committee: Frank Davis, chairman; Darsie Hamilton and Arthur Doll. Membership committee: Harold Bierley, chairman; James Scott and Denver Dougherty. Social committee: Carl Edwards, chairman; Everson True and Kenneth Davis. Program committee: Maurice Mendel, chairman; Glenn Harley and Chas. Buckley. Each of the above chairmen made a short talk outlining their plans for the coming winter.

The scoutmaster then distributed the new membership cards and the troop adjourned to meet again on next Monday evening at the home of Scout Harold Bierley, 1924 Hutchins street.

WHY THE CONFLICT?

Immediately prior to the election day, the electorate and such others as concerned themselves in the campaign were regaled by the heads of the party organizations, national, state and county, with estimates and predictions of the outcome. All were unremarkable in the fact that they followed an ancient and established custom, strangely enough accepted reverently in reverence and faith, in that they were exactly in conflict, the Democrat predicting one thing and the Republican another thing altogether opposite.

We are not saying there was not a certain degree of sincerity in them all, but little confidence should have been reposed in them because they had to be. It would be the damnation for any mouth-piece of a political organization to frankly admit his party was licked clear out of his mind. He might be forgiven, paroled and given a job for any other crime, but that one forever would bar the paradise of office against him.

Safety first for himself is the law of the party man, as well as some others. And that is why we say he isn't altogether insincere in his foretelling. He starts out with a purpose to be optimistic, hopeful and believing and he never fails to accomplish. When chosen head of the organization he starts out his wonders to perform because the big fellows of his party have put him forward as the only real Moses known since the children of Israel were led out of Egypt, found a way across the river Jordan and opened a path through the desert. The first party man comes in tells him things are looking good, and that makes him feel better. The next says things are in fine shape and that bounces him up. The committee meets and as one voice, each not wishing to appear ill before his fellows, all declare the outlook was never so cheering. That convicts him. The rainbow of promise spans the skies and once more the sun of victory is sure to shine. Hence the prophecies that disappear and are forgot as are the mist and the cloud, and the world wags on.

THERE IS NO EXCEPTION

Every campaign has its humorous incidents, if we will but so regard them. This just closed was no exception to the rule. Theodore Roosevelt went rampaging and raging up and down the country, tearing many a passion to tatters in denouncing Secretary of War Baker for certain allegations concerning the character of the American soldiers in the revolutionary war. It be true that the amiable and soft spoken secretary denies either the words or the purport of the language imputed to him but that doesn't make a bit of difference. If he didn't he any how thought them, or ought to, according to the dictum of the Terrible One and that is sufficient. But still it is not the fun of the turmoil, which is the grotesque position in which Roosevelt has placed himself, as revealed by some reading the learned editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer is able to recall. This scholar turning back to the pages of the "Life of Governor Morris," of which the author is none other than Theodore Roosevelt himself, finds his rage has been misplaced and misdirected and that he should be denouncing himself instead of the secretary of war. In this work, or book, to quote his exact language, the author says the self same revolutionary soldiers "had to be goaded into line," meaning they were poltroons and cowards when it came to fighting. Neither is this all, according to so renowned and infallible an authority as the colonel. In spite of the noble cause for which they were expected to both fight and die, these self same soldiers got disgustingly homesick and deserted Washington's army in shoals. Of course, the campaign being over, no patriotic societies will be denouncing Roosevelt for his view of the revolutionary patriots. He's ever immune anyway.

Yes, a lot of fellows won big on the election. We are pained to realize that a lot of fellows also lost on the election. But this chap was not one of the latter class. Years and years ago he made a lead pipe cinch bet and his tender conscience was much troubled as to whether or not it was strictly honorable to take the money of one so foolish. The other fellow didn't have any scruples of that kind, judging from the glee with which he took down the whole pot. Since then yours truly has fought shy of the election wager.

The price of doughnuts has been made larger, but conversely the hole in them has not been made smaller.

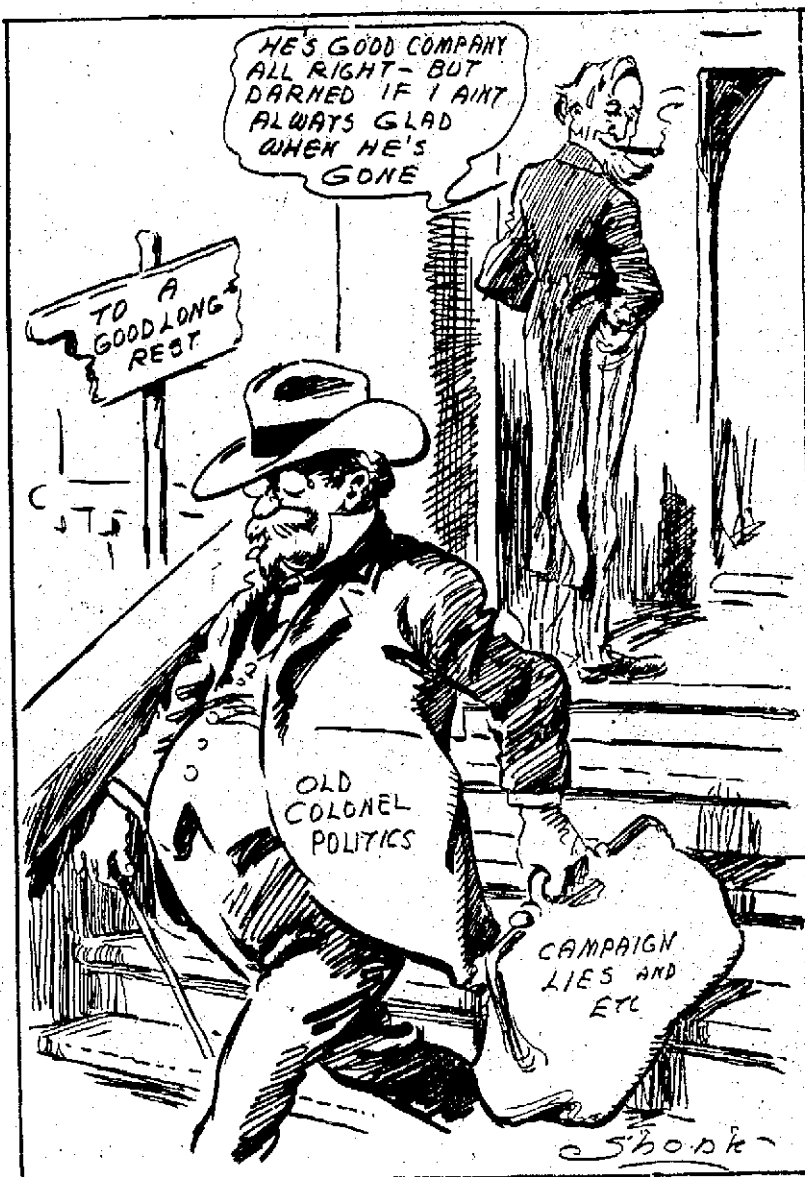

If the other side had got a moderate portion of what it claimed the result would have been different.

Some one start agitation right now for the elimination forever and aye of the straw ballot.

We suggest that the improvements on Sixth street, started many months ago and at last completed, is scarce a pretext for leaving the refuse and debris therefrom to cumber and disorder the street for other months.

If you are going to do any cleaning and painting up this year there is no time for delaying it further.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O-O-M-E-N-T-Y-R-E.

New York, Nov. 7.—Francis Albertanti, who was graduated from an office boy post to be one of America's leading athletic authorities and who writes under the name of "Francis," is an intimate friend of Antonio Scotti, the singer.

Not long ago Francis and Scotti and a group of friends journeyed to Long Beach to take a dip in the ocean. It was a cold day and very few were on the beach. While the singer was in the bathhouse undressing the fresh ozone or something inspired him to warble.

People pay $6 a night to hear him at the Metropolitan, but here he was bursting forth into an air from a popular opera. His voice was never in better condition and a few stragglers along the boardwalk stood petrified.

Even the wild waves quit saying what they say as the notes reached a higher and higher crescendo or whatever that is that they reach. At the end there was a hush and then the voice of a roughneck boomed forth from a neighboring bathhouse.

"Say, whatever that is you're trying to kill take it outside. You'll get that bathroom all bloody."

Scotti refused to take the encore of his enthusiastic friends who applauded until they were limp.

It was just before noon at the busy corner of Fifth Avenue and Forty-Second street. A broad shouldered little man picked this point for starting a physical clean-up. He began walloping passersby with great enthusiasm, with the result that many New Yorkers were forced to break their resolution never to enter the Public Library.

Policeman Mahoney after stopping several of the crusader's smashes with his chest finally took him to court.

"What's his name?" asked the magistrate.

"I dunno," said Mahoney. "All he can say is two words, Eskimo and whiskey."

"All he appears to have been been saying is the last one," suggested the court. There was a slip of paper in his pocket giving his name as Steve Metack. He was an Eskimo and quieted down after given a supply of gum drops.

There was a banquet in one of the banquet rooms of the Hotel Majestic the other evening and a distinguished looking man inquired at the desk for the chair of the committee.

"What is your name?" asked the clerk.

"Morgan," was the reply. "The initials?"

"J. P."

"Same as the big financier, eh?"

"Yes, just the same," said the man with a smile. It was J. P. Morgan, Jr., himself.

Miss Mary Nash, the actress, has always been used to paying 4 cents a package for hairpins. The other day she went to a store to buy some and was told the price had gone up a cent. She demanded an explanation.

"It's the war," said the clerk. "My goodness," came from Miss Nash. "Is it possible the soldiers have begun wearing hairpins?"

Bide Dudley, the newlywed, had some friends to dinner the other night. After the meal the guests assembled in the library. Then Dudley called a man servant and said:

"Quick Watson, the needle!"

And a moment later the phonograph ground out the air of a popular opera.

Navy Blue
 Say, pal, I saw you sneer just now—
 Don't I look good to you?
 I'm not quite in your class, eh, what,
 For being in Navy Blue?

You think I am not fine enough
 For such a guy as you!
 Well, men who wouldn't take your hand
 Have worn this Navy Blue!

You bar us from your theatres,
 And from your ballrooms, too;
 There's room enough to spare for all,
 But not for men in Blue.

We're only common sailors till
 War's bell begins to brew,
 And then, my friend, you're first to cheer
 The lads in Navy Blue.

Take this from me—the men who serve
 The Flag are strong and true;
 Stout-hearted, loyal, ready, brave—
 Not windbags, such as you.

I'm proud to wear this uniform;
 My dad he wore it, too,
 And did his bit with Farragut,
 'Way back in Sixty-two.

I know I'm not a fashion-plate—
 That's not my line, it's true;
 But listen, pal, it takes a man
 To wear the Navy Blue.

And say, when I am past and gone,
 And Lives last cruise is through,
 I'll not be barred from Heaven because
 I wear the Navy Blue.

So, when you meet a sailor man,
 P'd mind, if I were you,
 That God don't make 'em better than
 The men in Navy Blue.

A Young Man of The Name of Mors

By BYLAND BELL.

The stagecoach drew up in front of a tavern in New Mexico. A young man with light hair and a mild blue eye alighted and was going into the house when a man with a red bloated face covered with a stubble beard stopped him and said:

"You're the purtiest boy we ever seen in these parts, and them clothes air jist too beautiful for an angel. Come in and have a drink."

"Thank you, I've never touched a drop of liquor in my life."

"Well, it's time you begun. Come on."

He took the young man by the arm. The younger resisted and struck the ruffian in the face. There was a red welt on the cheek of the man with the red face and a stubble beard when the two weeks after that the man with the red face and a stubble beard was standing on the tavern porch when the daily coach drove up at the same time of day that the blue eyed boy had arrived. The door opened, and the same boy got out. He was very pale, but he had the same light hair and blue eyes as the other. The man with the red beard gave back a step or two as though he had seen a ghost.

"I'm looking," said the new arrival in a voice that seemed to come from the tomb, "for a man called Hawkins. Can any of you gentlemen tell me where I can find him?"

The stranger's attention was directed to the man with the red beard. "Would you like to have me drink with you, sir?" asked the newcomer. Hawkins seemed tongue tied. A pallor stood on his usually red face, and he was trembling.

"I don't feel like a drink jist now," he said.

"Perhaps you would like a game. My name is Mors. It's a name taken from a dead language. I've come to this country for the man who killed another two weeks ago because he wouldn't drink with him. Either Mors or Hawkins must cease to live. Cards are an easier way of settling the matter than guns. Come; let's have a game of euchre."

Taking Hawkins by the arm, he led him into the barroom. Hawkins seated himself at the table with the stranger. A pack of cards was produced, and Mors dealt them for euchre, mixed them, cut them and dealt a hand for himself and the man before him. Hawkins took up his cards mechanically, but did not see them. His eye was fixed on the man who had come back from the dead, he doubted not, to drag him down into the grave.

"The best three in five wins," said the stranger.

"The first game he won, for Hawkins played without giving any attention to the game. The second Hawkins made an attempt to pull himself together, but did not succeed. The stranger won again. In the third game Hawkins played his cards without looking at them. He lost.

Mors deliberately pulled a pistol from his pocket, keeping his eye on the other, and as deliberately pointed it at Hawkins, who seemed paralyzed, making no effort whatever to draw his weapon. The stranger, keeping his eye fixed on him, said:

"You've played a game with death and lost. My twin brother came out to this country to locate here, and you killed him. I was told that there was no law in this country except gun law, so I came out to get the man that murdered my brother. I didn't see any use in a gun fight when we could settle the matter by a game. Hands up!"

The last two words were spoken at seeing in Hawkins' eye a change. The murderer had been in doubt whether he was not talking to the ghost of the man he had killed till he learned that he was flesh and blood. His eye indicated that he had regained some of his equanimity, and he was about to put up a fight. The avenger saw it, and his own eye indicated that at the slightest motion to draw his weapon he would be shot. He sat immovable.

"Gentlemen," said the stranger, "I would much prefer that you would leave me of a disagreeable duty. Live up!"

very ill when the news of my brother's death reached me and have not yet recovered. Don't you think that your town would be well rid of this fiend and that as respectable citizens it is up to you to do what is not a fit task for a sick man? Say the word. Shall I shoot him, or will you take him out and swing him?"

A man standing behind Hawkins, who had suffered from him, but feared him, jerked Hawkins' gun from his hip, then said to the dozen men standing about:

"Gentles, will you let this sick boy do what it has long been our duty to do? This desperado has killed five men in four months, and for no good reason. Come on."

The speaker plucked Hawkins' arms to his side; the others sprang forward, and the murderer was hustled out, the crowd assisting or following.

"Give me a brace," said the man who had called himself Death, and when liquor was set before him he drank it off and, setting down the glass, said:

"That's the first liquor that has ever passed down my throat, and it will be the last. I needed it."

When the crowd returned they thought of the stranger for having accomplished what they had never dared to do themselves.

Humor in Shop Signs.

Japan has many humorous business notices displayed. Nearly every shop in Japan exhibits a placard printed in English advertising goods, some of which are very comical.

"Horse shoe maker instruct by French horse leech," you read, or, "If you want sell watch I will buy; if you want buy watch I will sell. Yes, sir, we will, all will. Come at my shop. Watchmaker."

A Japanese laundry company announced: "We most carefully and cleanly wash our customers with cheaper prices. Gentlemen, 7s a hundred, ladies 8s a hundred," while a certain dairy announced that they sold "Extracts of fowls."

The Last Gladiator.

It was in A. D. 430 that the edict was passed which forever abolished the gladiatorial combats. In the deserts of Libya there lived a monk named, Telemachus, who, touched by the cruel stories of the combats, went to Rome, leaped over the barrier of the arena of the Coliseum, threw himself between the groups of fighters and implored them in the name of Christ to desist. Telemachus fell, slain by the swords of the gladiators, but there never was another fight in the Coliseum.

The spirit of the monk had its effect, and the above mentioned edict was soon passed.

The Sea Wolf.

Among the most destructive inhabitants of the ocean is the sea wolf, a kind of dolphin, which attains when full grown a length of fourteen feet. When a mother walrus sees a sea wolf endeavoring to throw her cub on an iceberg, if one is near, falling this, she gets it on her head and swims with it above water. But often this does not save it. Diving far below, the fleet of prey comes up with tremendous force, striking the mother and jolting the cub off her head into the water.

A Return From Oblivion

By WILLIAM CHANDLER

It is not an uncommon occurrence for two youngsters who are chums to agree that if possible the one who dies first will appear in the spirit to the other. I don't think such agreements are as apt to be made now as formerly, for belief in the reappearance of those who have died is not what it was when I was young. Scientists have taken up the matter, but the lady don't feel much interest in it.

I made one of these agreements with Dick Atherton when we were eighteen years old. Dick became a sailor, and on one of his voyages the vessel he sailed in was wrecked, and all on board were lost. At any rate, if any of them escaped death he was never heard from. I took to the water, too, but not in the same line as Dick. I began on river work and eventually came to own and run a steamer that I usually laid up in winter, but ran as an excursion boat in summer.

One season I had contracted to take a party of excursionists out of Boston harbor around Cape Ann. For several days before our sailing everything went wrong. The government inspector took it into his head to find fault with a lot of things which he required me to improve, and I knew that if I didn't attend to them myself I wouldn't be ready to keep my contract for the excursion. The consequence was that I got no sleep for two nights and a day before we left Boston.

I had several hundred persons aboard, and, rounding Cape Ann, preferred to rely on myself rather than on any one else. I was passing Thatcher's light when I began to feel so drowsy that I feared to fall asleep, notwithstanding the fact that the lives of so many human beings were dependent on my keeping awake. I was tired, too, and when I had a clear course ahead of me I sat down on the seat behind the wheel, reaching forward to take it whenever required. This I should not have done. A man may go to sleep on his feet. He is much more liable to do so while sitting.

Slumber got me, though, at last. I must have slept quite awhile. Suddenly I awoke, frightened out of my wits, for I knew what it was to go to sleep at the wheel. There was a man standing between me and it, turning it rapidly. Whether he was really dizzy or not I couldn't say. He certainly looked so through my sleepy eyes. I tried to wake myself enough to get up and take the wheel from him, but somehow, considering that he was there, I couldn't do it.

"Go to sleep, Tom," he said. "You're not in fit condition for a pilot."

Whether I was not entirely awake, whether I was dreaming, I couldn't make out, but the voice was certainly Dick Atherton's. Then I dreamed that I said to him:

"Dick, have you come back to keep your promise when we were youngsters?"

"I've come back to keep you from running full headway against Folly point," was the reply.

I have said that I dreamed this, because that's the way it seemed to me. What it really was might be another matter.

I woke up again later, looked ahead and saw that there was clear sailing. Thompson, one of my steersmen, was at the wheel.

"Great heavens!" I exclaimed. "Can it be that I've been asleep?"

"Reckon you have, sir."

"How long have you been at the wheel?"

"About ten minutes. I happened to look ahead, and the boat was heading for Folly point. I ran up here to see what was up and found you asleep and a man at the wheel who was steering off. He gave me the wheel and left the pilot house."

"A man?"

"Yes, sir, he was a man. Why do you think he was anything else?"

"What did he look like?"

"I didn't notice him very particular. I was too much upset by the narrow escape. But I remember that his hair was red."

Dick Atherton's hair was red. When he was a boy we called him Reddy.

So horrified was I at my narrow escape from sacrificing a host of excursionists that I had scarcely time to wonder about Atherton or his ghost. I asked Thompson if he felt sure he could attend to the wheel safely, and when he replied that he could I told him I would go below and rest a bit, for I was completely knocked out by what had occurred. Leaving the pilot house, I walked at through the crowd of excursionists—they were ignorant of the frightful doom they had escaped—and was about to go down the stern companionway when I felt a hand on my shoulder. Turning, there stood Dick Atherton. He was ten years older than when I had last seen him, but I recognized him at once. He was looking mighty serious. Putting a finger to his lips, he said: "Don't get broken up over it, old man. Only I and the man who rolled me at the wheel know about it."

Dick then briefly explained. He had escaped the wreck of his vessel and spent a year in the east, mostly Japan. Returning, he had seen an advertisement of the excursion on my boat, my name being mentioned as making him self known and had gone up to the pilot house to surprise me, but instead it was I who had surprised him.

Seared Women.

A bearded woman was taken by the Russians at the battle of Poltava and presented to the czar. Her beard measured over a yard. The great Margaret, governess of the Netherlands, had a very long, stiff beard. Mlle. Bore de Chene, born at Geneva in 1834, was exhibited in London in 1863 in her eightieth year. She had a profuse head of hair, a large mustache and a strong black beard. There are other instances of bearded women about the authenticity of whom there is no room for doubt.

was every early indication that a heavy vote would be polled in Minnesota today. The polls today will close at 9 p. m.

CALIFORNIA

San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 7.—Cold weather prevailed in virtually all parts of California today. Indications were the voting would be heavy.

MASSACHUSETTS

Boston, Nov. 7.—An unusually heavy early vote was cast in many Massachusetts cities and towns today. Reports from some of the larger cities indicated that probably more than one-half the voters visited the polls during the first few hours.

NOT ALLOWED TO VOTE

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 7.—Election day was not election day for many of the soldiers who were not allowed to ballot this year. Among the troops in Texas which have voted already are those from South Dakota, Virginia, Kansas and New York. Minnesota, North Dakota, Iowa and Wisconsin troops were balloting.

KENTUCKY

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 7.—Unusually large crowds were reported at the polls in many Kentucky election precincts today. Party managers predicted a record vote in the state would be cast. The weather generally was fair and warm. Republican leaders especially were cheered by reports of good weather in eastern Kentucky, where early indications were, they said, that a heavy Republican vote would be polled.

KANSAS

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 7.—Kansas electoral vote for president was claimed by both Republicans and Democrats today. Democratic managers expressed small hope for the outcome of their state ticket, but claimed seven of the eight congressmen up for election. Of the 625,000 votes estimated to be polled 225,000 of these are expected to be cast by women. Weather conditions were favorable and early voting was heavy.

IOWA

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 7.—Cold rainy weather greeted Iowa voters today. A large vote was predicted because of the bitter fight over the state ticket. As the polls do not close until seven o'clock, it is possible the first Iowa votes reported will be those of 2,500 state guardsmen encamped in Texas, which will be telegraphed to the state house in Des Moines.

VICE PRESIDENT VOTES

Indianapolis, Nov. 7.—Early reports from all parts of the state indicated that a heavy vote will be polled today. The polls opened at six o'clock and in many precincts one third or more of the registered vote was cast by nine o'clock. Frank Hanly, the Prohibition party nominee, voiced early today. He said he expected his party to poll more than 500,000 votes, or more than twice as many as four years ago. Charles W. Fairbanks, the Republican vice presidential candidate, cast the 321st ballot in his precinct. His only statement was that he never had seen a campaign in which so much interest had been displayed. Vice President Marshall cast his ballot just before noon.

INTEREST IN SENATOR

Providence, R. I., Nov. 7.—Interest in the first election of a United States Senator by direct vote in Rhode Island, swelled the ranks of the early voters today to large proportions. The weather was fair.

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 7.—Favorable weather here this morning gave promise that virtually all the voters in the country districts of North Dakota would get to the polls during the day.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 7.—Clear bracing weather greeted the electors who went to the polls in large numbers during the early hours today. Balloting proceeded briskly and a heavy vote was predicted.

ARIZONA

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 7.—Issues growing out of the border conditions were expected to be an important factor in the voting today. Fair weather prevailed.

SOLDIERS VOTING

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 7.—Ten thousand officers and soldiers of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, and a small contingent of the Massachusetts guardsmen on duty on the Mexican border are casting their ballots for candidates on the president, congressional and state tickets at their camps in El Paso, Texas, today.

ARREST NEGROES

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 7.—Nine negroes accused of election frauds were arrested here today by federal officers and taken to the county jail. J. J. O'Brien, assistant district attorney, inquired into the nature of the charge, but was refused admission to the jail. More arrests are expected before the polls close.

MICHIGAN

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 7.—From every section of Lower Michigan this morning came reports of heavy voting. Clear weather and the state-wide prohibition fight—historic for its vigor and bitterness—helped to bring out what was expected to be a record breaking vote. Nearly every county which reported to Detroit before 11 o'clock this forenoon forecast victory for the prohibition forces but the presidential contest was sharply in doubt.

SNOW IN COLORADO

Denver, Colo., Nov. 7.—Colorado voters who came out in large numbers early today were greeted by a snow storm. "Dry" workers were astir early to get votes against the amendment permitting the manufacture of beer in Colorado. Later the storm became more severe and threatened to cut down the voting.

WYOMING

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 7.—Overcast skies with a threat of rain early today tended to hasten the voting throughout Wyoming. Chief interest centered in the senatorial contest and the proposed prohibition amendment. Later snow started to fall, threatening to reduce the rural vote.

NEW MEXICO

Albuquerque, N. M., Nov. 7.—Fair weather prevailed throughout New Mexico today and reports from various sections indicated a heavy early vote.

FACTIONAL FIGHT

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 7.—Chief interest in today's election in Delaware centered in the factional fight in the Republican ranks. United States Senator Henry A. DuPont and Congressman Thomas W. Miller, the regular Republican nominees for re-election, were opposed by former Congressman Hiram B. Burde for senator and Edward G. Bradford for congress, the two last named running as Independent Republicans. The Democratic candidates were Josiah W. Wolfelt and Alfred S. Park.

Both Democrats and Republicans continued to claim the state for their presidential electors.

FACTORIES CLOSE

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 7.—With many factories and shops closed and favored with clear, warm weather, much interest was taken in the election here today. The early vote was exceptionally heavy, almost one-third of the total vote being in at 9 o'clock.

Baltimore, Nov. 7.—Voting started in with a rush with the

MANY PRISONERS TAKEN FIRST RETURNS

Paris, Nov. 7.—(Via London)—Today's official statement recapitulates the prisoners taken by French and British troops in the course of the fighting on the Somme front since July 1, giving their number up to November 1, as 71,532 men and 1,449 officers, while the number of guns captured is given as 173 field guns, 130 heavy guns, 215 trench mortars and 981 machine guns.

TRAIN AND JITNEY COLLIDE FOUR DEAD

Camden, N. J., Nov. 7.—Three men and a woman were killed by a Pennsylvania railroad train which struck a jitney bus in which they were riding at Freeman station near here today. The bus, with three passengers, was being driven from Berlin to Haddonfield by Thomas Hampton, of East Berlin. The passengers were instantly killed and Hampton died while being removed to a hospital here.

THUGS ARE CAUGHT IN THE ACT

Cleveland, O., Nov. 7.—A negro, giving the name of Edmund Martin, 19, was shot in the thigh by a policeman early this morning when the officer came on the negro and a companion just as they knocked Alex Schmidt, of Akron, to the sidewalk and robbed him of $40.

SALT WORKS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Cleveland, O., Nov. 7.—Fire caused by sparks from a passing locomotive early today destroyed the plant of the Union Salt Works, causing a loss estimated at $150,000. Police and fire department officials today were investigating three apartment house fires in the East End last night. Incendiarism is suspected.

APPOINTED IN CABINET

Peking, Nov. 7.—Wu Ting Fang has been appointed minister of foreign affairs. His appointment was approved today by the virtually unanimous vote opening of the polls at 6 a. m. in this city and reports from the country districts where the polls did not open until 8 o'clock, pointed to an early and large vote. The weather is fair and cool.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—By far the largest vote in the history of Illinois elections is expected today by reason of the fact that women for the first time voted for president and vice president. Prohibition of fair weather throughout the state was also counted on by party managers to aid in bringing about a heavy vote.

Approximately 2,000,000 voters have registered in the state and party leaders estimated that close to 1,500,000 votes would be recorded, of which number between 500,000 and 700,000 would be cast by women. The women, however, enjoy only partial suffrage, being permitted to vote for president and vice president, but not for state officers except trustees of the state university.

Chicago, with its more than 3,000,000 voters—men and women—started the voting in the state, the polls here opening at six a. m. and closing at four o'clock this afternoon. Down state the polls opened at 7 a. m. and will remain open until 5 p. m.

A full state ticket is to be chosen.

In Chicago principal interest aside from the presidential contest centered in the three cornered race for state attorney among Mayday Hayne, Democrat, incumbent, Harry B. Miller, Republican, and W. A. Cunniff, Socialist.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 7.—Fair weather over the state gave promise of bringing the voters to the polls early and political leaders looked for a heavy vote. Reports from various sections of the state during the early hours seemed to bear out these expectations particularly in Newark, Hoboken and Jersey City, the centers of population.

Hutchinson, Kas., Nov. 7.—In complete returns from 13 out of 14 city precincts give Hughes 747; Wilson 536. For governor Capper (R.) 761; Lansdon (D) 427.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 7.—The first five towns in Massachusetts to report on the presidential vote gave Wilson, 289; Hughes, 544. In 1912, they gave Wilson, 192; Taft, 358; Roosevelt, 272. These towns were New Ashford, Acushnet, Norwell, Mashpee and Marshfield.

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 7.—Incomplete returns from 62 out of 247 precincts in Kansas give Hughes 2,697; Wilson 2,536. The 62 precincts are in the four large cities of the state.

Fort Scott, Kas., Nov. 7.—Incomplete returns from 5 of the 9 precincts in this city give Hughes 131 and Wilson 281.

Atchison, Kan., Nov. 7.—Incomplete returns from six out of seven precincts in this city give Hughes 734; Wilson 678.

Wichita, Kas., Nov. 7.—Sedgewich county including this city went Progressive in both 1912 and 1914. The vote in 1912 was 6,546 for Roosevelt; 5,752 for Wilson and 3,592 for Taft. The 1914 vote for governor was Capper (R.) 3,772; Hodges (D) 5,554, and Allen (Progressive) 6,411.

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 7.—Incomplete returns from 27 of the 32 precincts in Topeka give Hughes 3,056; Wilson 1,943.

Shawnee county, of which Topeka is a part, was carried by Wilson four years ago and by Gov. Capper, Republican, two years ago. The 1912 vote was Wilson 5,094; Taft 3,593 and Roosevelt 4,057. The vote on governor two years ago, Capper 12,128; Hodges Democrat, 2,751 and Allen (Progressive) 1,338.

NOTE FROM ENGLAND

London, Nov. 7.—Great Britain has addressed a note to the American and Spanish ambassadors regarding the recent sinking of a Greek steamer carrying supplies for the commission for relief in Belgium. Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, told the house of commons today.

Bristol, R. I., Nov. 7.—Strikers at the plant of the National India Rubber Company today raided the factory of the Narragansett Rubber Company and forced the 700 employees to quit work. No serious damage was reported, and no arrests were made.

OFFICIALS CONFER

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7.—Pennsylvania railroad general officers were in conference here until a late hour last night endeavoring to unravel the difficulties which have resulted in the most acute car shortage known in recent years. General and division officers of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad also were in session for the same purpose. In connection with the shortage it became known that five carloads of bituminous coal sold yesterday for $6.50 a ton. This is usually marketed at prices ranging from $1.25 to $1.50 a ton.

Mrs. Joseph Stokley, is now steadily recovering from her recent serious illness.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the danger they will do is too great to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Local Man Electrocuted In The Westinghouse Plant

George McIntee, aged 23, an electrician, who left Portsmouth two months ago to accept a job in the Westinghouse plant in Pittsburgh met death by electrocution while at work Monday. A telegram conveying the news of his death was received here Monday evening by Mrs. John McIntee, mother of the dead man, who resides at 2231 Seventh street. The body left Pittsburgh this morning and is due to arrive here at midnight tonight.

George McIntee until two months ago was employed as an electrician in the sub station of the street railway company on Offshore street. He was well known in this city and was an industrious young man, who through his friendly disposition made friends rapidly. In addition to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntee, he is survived by two sisters, Pearl and Alice McIntee. With the arrival of the body here the funeral arrangements will be completed.

Fines Handed Out By Mayor Kaps

Ed McInnis was the name given by a painter who was found helplessly drunk at Seventh and Clay streets Monday evening. He was given a $5 suspended fine in police court Tuesday morning. A man claiming to be Frank Hoover, of Columbus, was fined $10 for fighting. Half of the fine was suspended. Hoover did not remember anything about the fight and could not say who had cut him behind the ear. George Hall and Oscar Spencer, neighbors, were fined $10 each for fighting. Spencer's wife and Hall's sister, Clara Hall, who had taken part in the trouble, were dismissed with warnings. Frank Irvin, a negro, was fined $10 for creating a disturbance at Vie Penman's restaurant. A man giving the name of Harry Clark, charged with disorderly conduct at Gallia and Lawson streets, was dismissed for lack of evidence. A plain drunk giving the name of R. H. Hamilton was fined $5.

Runaway Boys Caught

Wesley Conwell and Ernest McCormick were named given by two 15-year-old runaway boys from Columbus who were found by Officer Beaumont at the Black Diamond brick plant Monday night. The youngsters had just alighted from a freight train. The boys were taken to the county jail Tuesday morning to be tried by the juvenile court.

Dairy Is Found In Splendid Condition

Ferguson, which furnishes milk to New Boston families. They found the bottling room, stock and entire equipment of this dairy in first class condition. New Boston has several cases of typhoid fever and an effort is being made to learn the source of contamination.

Going Back To Louisville

Lew Adams, cross-tie inspector, who was waylaid by a highwayman in Louisville, Ky., one night last week, expects to stop at the same hotel, the Victoria, when he returns to the Falls City, and to walk the same streets in the hope that the fellow might attack him again. It was near the Victoria where Mr. Adams was assaulted.

Says The Time Is Coming When Depositors Cannot Lose A Cent

Within the next fifteen or twenty years, it will be impossible for a depositor in a national bank to lose his money, should the bank fail, according to an opinion expressed yesterday by Walter W. Warwick, comptroller of the United States treasury, Washington, who was here a few days visiting John and W. A. Luman. In discussing the operation of the Federal Reserve banks with a Times man, Mr. Warwick said that they had been found to be entirely successful. He compared them with a fire department, and in explaining said that they were only needed in the case of an emergency. Under their direction banks that were on the verge of failure would be reported to the Reserve bank by other members and an investigation might avert the failure. Such protection as afforded by the Reserve banks, he added, would eventually lead to the passage of a measure that would make it compulsory for all members of the Reserve legion to stand surety for the deposits in a bank failure. Under such conditions, hundreds of millions of dollars now being held by citizens who are afraid of the banks would be deposited in banks. Another one of the great measures to become a fixture in the financial circles of the United States, he said, was the establishment of the Farm Loan board. Twelve regions, similar to the Federal Reserve regions, would be established under this act, in January, he said. These banks would organize and loan money on farm property at five percent interest. Government bonds for four percent would be issued to raise the money for operation. The extra one percent allowed is to pay the operating expenses. As comptroller of the treasury Mr. Warwick who is a former Lucasville boy, renders final judgment upon all of the money paid out under the appropriating ordinances enacted by congress. His judgment is final. Hundreds of laws governing operation of his office are in effect and many times he is compelled to reject a warrant for money drawn upon the treasury upon the recommendation of both congress and the president. Mr. Warwick was private secretary to Ex-President William H. Taft twenty-eight years ago, then entered the services of the Federal government as a law clerk. Later he became auditor of the canal zone and managed the finances of Panama canal until appointed as assistant comptroller of the treasury by President Taft. Under President Wilson he was promoted to comptroller.

Mrs. Stevens' Will Filed For Probate

GUARDSMAN ARRESTED

Calvin Hodge was arrested and confined in the county jail Monday evening upon a warrant issued by Capt. William J. Keyes, Company K, Seventh Regiment, Ohio National Guards, charging him with leaving the armory without permission. Hodge, it is claimed, climbed out a window at the armory, Distel hall, Seventh and Chillicothe streets Monday evening and went home.

One Initiated. Eugene Uhl, who is employed as a carpenter at the Whitaker-Glessner Company's plant, was initiated as a member of German Lodge, Order of Harugari Monday night.

CURING THE CHILDREN'S COLDS

Don't be so foolish as to let the children's coughs and colds run on unchecked, waiting for nature to work a cure unaided. Even a mild cold will in time so drain their vitality and undermine their power of resistance that they fall an easy victim to the first contagious disease to which they are exposed. As soon as your child begins to sneeze and snuffle or talk hoarsely, purchase a bottle of the famous Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, give regularly according to directions on bottle and the illness will generally disappear within 24 hours. This remedy is compounded of absolutely pure and palatable medicines according to a doctor's prescription, and the fact that over 20,000,000 bottles have been sold to date is the best possible proof of its efficacy. 25 cents at druggists or you may try it free by writing A. Dear Miss Wise—I have often read about covers being laid for 8 or 10 or a certain number at various parties and dinners. What is meant by a cover?

A "cover" is the place at the table for each guest.

Dear Miss Wise—Do you answer or accept questions over the telephone?

A READER. Yes, but I'd rather you would phone your questions in during the forenoon, if possible, as I'm so busy in the afternoon, I might not have time to take them, unless you happen to call about four o'clock, or any time thereafter.

Dear Miss Wise—When a boy calls on a girl, should he tell her he has had a good time, and should she tell him to come again?

THE BOY. The girl should tell him to come again, and she should tell him to come again.

Prepare This for a Bad Cough—It's Fine

Cheerily and Easily Made, but Does the Work Quickly.

The sweet cough syrup that money can buy, costing only about one-fifth as much as ready-made preparations, can easily be made up at home. The way is taken bold and conquers distressing coughs, throat and chest colds will really make you enthusiastic about it.

Any drugstore can supply you with 616 ounces of Elix (50 cents worth). Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar.

Shake thoroughly and it is ready for use. The total cost is about 64 cents and gives you a full pint of family supply of a most effective, pleasant-tasting remedy. It keeps perfectly.

It is truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and relieves the phlegm, soothes and heals the inflamed or swollen throat membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat irritation and dreaded cough will disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping cough or bronchial asthma.

Place in a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with quinine, and is known the world over for its prompt healing effect on the throat membranes.

Dear Miss Wise—Some reader of your columns was asking how to make good coffee. I will gladly give my recipe. Take a piece of wire, not brass or copper, just orinary wire, make a hoop to fit top of coffee pot, let it be long enough to bring ends together, twist them to form a handle, then take a piece of thin domestic, make a pocket about 4 inches long, sew it to this hoop. For five cups of coffee I use 2 tablespoons of coffee ground very fine, boil water in a sauce pan, put coffee in this bag and gradually pour this boiling water over this coffee, a little at the time. The bag fits in the pot and keeps it from falling inside. Never let coffee boil, it kills the flavor. Let the pot stand on back of the stove where it won't boil. By this method you have a nice clear cup of coffee, free from grounds. I always use the best of coffee. Cheap coffee is no good. You can't get any good results.

MRS. A. P. Evangelina—While it might be an act of charity on your part to tell the woman what you have heard, I do not think she would thank you for the information. She probably knows already that people know all about her escapades, but she evidently doesn't care who knows it, when she boasts about it and appears in public with her so-called friend. The less you have to do with those kind of people the better off you will be.

The Reader of The Times—No man or woman has a right to do as you say, and you haven't any right to advocate such things.

Wilson Man—Your letter came in too late for publication yesterday, and there's no use publishing it after the battle is over.

When four months old my boy suffered with blisters and a kind of scaly skin on his head. I got some salve and he didn't seem to improve but got worse and his ears, neck, and face were affected. He scratched day and night the itching was so intense, and we had to keep his hands pinned the whole time. The skin was sore and inflamed, and he didn't have a hair on his head. It was just a cap of sore eruptions, and his face was terribly disfigured.

"He got so bad we had to keep a mask on his face. The trouble lasted for months. Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and we got them. The third day I noticed a big improvement and in two weeks my boy was healed." (Signed) Mrs. H. A. Thiele, 248 6th St., Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 25, 1915.

THIEF ENTERS JORDAN HOME

The home of George K. Jordan, of 1411 McConnell avenue, and a member of the commission firm of Leitchner & Jordan, was the scene of a burglary early Tuesday morning.

When Mr. Jordan awoke Tuesday morning he was surprised to find the pockets of his clothes, which he had kept on a chair near his bed, had been rifled. Twenty dollars in paper had been taken from a pocket-book and the empty pocket-book placed back in his trousers pocket. Two dollars in change had also been taken from the trousers, but his watch and other jewelry in the room were not disturbed.

The robber also took Mr. Jordan's coat and shoes, leaving his own coat lying on the floor of the hall adjacent to the bed-room.

The robber's shoes were left outside under the window through which he entered the cottage bedroom.

Mr. Jordan retired at a late hour and left a bright light burning. Mrs. Jordan and a nurse slept in an adjoining room, and the latter was up about the house at different times during the night, as late as 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, attending a newly-born baby of the household, so that it is supposed it was after that hour that the robbery was committed. The robber left the house through the front door, which he unlocked from the inside.

Patrolman Floyd Shonkwiler was on the scene early and began an investigation. He took charge of the robber's coat and shoes.

Mrs. Deana Holman, whom a next door neighbor, Mrs. Laura Farmer, during a fit of jealousy, shot in front of the latter's home on Ninth street Saturday night, is not out of danger.

While Mrs. Holman's temperature was reported normal, no change has taken place in her condition. She is still having slight hemorrhages from the wound in her abdomen and complained a great deal of severe pains Monday afternoon. These ceased towards evening, but returned again later in the night, so that she reacted only fairly well, though seemed to be feeling a little better Tuesday morning.

Dr. James W. Fitch, the attending physician, is not holding out any encouragement to the relatives. Mrs. Holman appears greatly worried about herself. No one has discussed the shooting affair with her since she was removed to Hempstead hospital.

Mrs. Farmer is again bedfast at the home of her father-in-law, Harvey Farmer, of No. 916 Third street. After going through the ordeal of a preliminary hearing in the mayor's court Monday, at the close of which she was held to the grand jury in the sum of $1,000, which she furnished, she was on the verge of collapse. Dr. Tra Martin, the attending physician, advised her to return to bed and keep as quiet as possible. He gave orders to permit no visitors. Mrs. Farmer soon after Dr. Martin reached her side Tuesday morning, inquired as to the condition of Mrs. Holman, then exclaimed, "I hope that she gets well."

Mrs. Farmer's husband is remaining close at home. The other woman's husband, Stephan Holman, looked after affairs at his motion picture theater, "The Forrest," as usual Monday night. He already has received several offers for the theater since he indicated a desire to dispose of it, or at least his holdings, Mrs. Farmer having become part owner at the time she recently sued her husband for alimony.

Unless the last grand jury, which heard the several recent murder cases is recalled, the present shooting will not be taken up until January. Sheriff E. W. Smith said, however, Tuesday, that the grand jury was not discharged, but only excused, and that it was likely to be recalled some time in December.

Mrs. Scott's Coconut Custard Pie

1 Can of Baker's Fresh Grated Coconut, 1/2 Cupful of Sugar, 1/2 Cupful of Salt, 2 Eggs of Milk, 2 Eggs.

Beat the eggs, milk, sugar and salt together, add the can of fresh grated coconut and pour into pie tin that has been lined with pie crust. Bake in moderate oven on bottom rack thirty to forty-five minutes or until set. Try with silver knife, if it comes out dry the pie is done; if the custard and coconut separate, it has baked too long. This makes a seven-inch pie regular depth.

The above is taken from a book of original recipes by Mrs. Anna B. Scott, cooking expert and food economist of the Philadelphia North American. This book was prepared especially for users of

C. & O. Extends Time For Receiving Coal Shipments For Lakes

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 7.—On account of the car shortage and the fact that the operators are behind in their contracts for coal shipment over the Great Lakes, the time when the lake traffic will be closed has been extended until December 8. The Chesapeake & Ohio railroad will receive coal for over the lakes until November 23. It is believed this extension of time will give the operators an opportunity to fill their lake orders.

Ohio State Tackles Indiana Next Saturday; Gridiron News

The Scarlet And Gray Must Defeat Hoosiers

Columbus, Nov. 7.—Ohio State and Northwestern football players, that less than two months had on general recognition as contestants for what is popularly known as the championship of the Western Conference, are now heralded far and wide as the ones that will battle for the title in Columbus on November 25, unless something happens to one of the other.

From Chicago, center of the W. C. zone, last night there came this statement: "Starting the season as dark horses of the Western Conference, the Ohio State and Northwestern teams have caused the biggest upset western football has seen in years. Neither was regarded, at the start of the season, as a serious contender for the title. As late as Saturday noon, Minnesota was supposed to have a clear sweep to the championship; but it's all different now."

Now, getting down to brass tacks, Ohio State's fight is little more than half done. Followers of the Buckeye eleven are wild to have it go on and out rank them all. No doubt every

Jack Perry Wins From Milburn Saylor

Columbus, Nov. 7.—Jack Perry, of Columbus, was returned the winner last night in his scheduled twelve round bout with Milburn Saylor, of Indianapolis, when Referee Walter Hughes stopped the fight in the fifth round, after repeatedly warning Saylor against committing fouls. Saylor is credited with having used many foul blows and unfair tactics in every round after the first. The crowd several times rose in protest at his manner of fighting.

Perry started to carry the fight in the first round, but that period went to Saylor, as did the first part of the second. Perry then took the lead and had the better of the succeeding rounds. Joe Thomas, of Columbus, substituting for Dick Stosh, of Cleveland, is credited with a win over Tommy Dillon, of Indianapolis, in the twelve round semi-windup.

Will Mike Gibbons peck Jack Dillon into submission? Will the Indianapolis heart smash through the St. Paul phantom's guard and perform an operation on him similar to the ones performed on most of our leading middleweights and heavyweights?

Will Gibbons be content to stall his way through the ten rounds or will he throw away his wraps and make an earnest effort to show the spectators the remarkable ability that he possesses?

Will Dillon's rugged frame and giant fighting heart carry him to victory over the more frail but faster Gibbons?

These and kindred other questions of a similar nature are now furnishing topic for general discussion in local fight circles.

Indiana May Be Hoodoo

Gus Axelsson, football critic of the Chicago Herald, was asked last night for his forecast of the Western Conference situation. He said that Ohio State and Northwestern apparently are coming up to the fight for a down-right decision, but added that Indiana might put Ohio out of it. That's the way it will be all over the "Big Nine" range, too.

Marshall Plays Marietta

Huntington, Nov. 7.—The Marshall College Marietta College football game here Saturday is attracting more attention in southern West Virginia and southern Ohio than any game ever staged in this section. Marshall's feat of winning Oberlin, one of the best in Ohio, and Marietta's victory over West Virginia Wesleyan Saturday stamp these two eleven as the best in the history of the schools. All Huntington is agog over this battle, due mainly to Marshall's clean record in six games played.

MY CRUISE IN THE NAVY

I was transferred from the Buffalo to the auxiliary cruiser "Rainbow," at that time temporary flag ship of the Atlantic fleet, on January 19th, 1912, and my real cruise had just begun aboard a man-o-war. This ship seems to have had a mysterious transfer from the English navy to the United States navy in the Spanish-American war. She was picked up at sea, loaded with ammunition in that war. Her former name was Norse King. I spent two years on this ship, and travelled up and down the China coast many times before my cruise was up, and visited the Philippines several times.

At that time the Chinese were at war with each other, fighting for their freedom—of course, what every country says it fights for. The Manchus have always been the ruling class of Chinese, and they were in power at the time—the high figure head being an emperor. I arrived there just after the decisive battle fought at Nanking, the original capital of China, between the rebels and imperialists, the rebels winning. I went to the battlefield around Lion Hill, just after the battle, and witnessed the first scene in my life of death, blood and destruction. I wondered at the time why people fight that way, for it all looked useless to me. The majority of the Chinese never knew for what they were fighting, and will never know. I simply said they were heathens and it was all ways in them to fight that way, but I take notice now that the civilized ones are in the same boat.

And we that profess to be a Christian nation are sending missionaries out there to convert those would-be heathens that are wise to us, while on the other hand, over on the other coast, we are doing just the opposite, sending missionaries of war to the allies, which helps to do away with the professed Christians of Europe. I think the missionaries are doing a great lot of good in educating the Chinese into a Christian way of living.

Rebels Won The War

Well, the Rebels won the war, and the Chinese Empire was changed to the Chinese Republic, and Sun Yat Sen placed provisional president. People said the Republic came a hundred years too soon, for the people were too ignorant to be ruled in the republic form. Sun Yat Sen didn't last long as president, for Yan Shi Kai beat him out of his office.

Then Dr. Sun Yat Sen started the fire again by rebelling. This was in 1913. It appeared that no money came from Sun Yat Sen to carry out his plans so he didn't succeed, but instead had to escape to Japan, where he would be safe and could always find sympathy. Yan Shi Kai then ruled until they poisoned him, in the early part of this year. They had his relief already picked out, and he went promptly to the office as soon as Yan had "cashed in."

The Republican form of government stirred things up a great deal over there. It hasn't had a chance to change things yet, and never will until they get common sense into their brains. They are petrified from worship of ancestors, and have been for years, and in order to change into the new way they will have to forget this worship and put public schools throughout the country, so that the new generation can become educated and learn the new ways. They have already tried to go back to the monarch, claiming the republic to be a hopeless case. White Wolfe, the famous Villa of

Hartwig Fund Growing

The Lefty Hartwig fund continues to grow at the Play House. An effort will be made to raise $100 by popular subscription and this sum will be sent to Hartwig as a Christmas gift from his admirers and friends in the River City. Hartwig is in Golden, Colorado trying to shake off an incipient attack of tuberculosis.

To Play Charleston

Win! Win! Win! That is the spirit with which the football squad is going to practice every evening. Win out at this position and go to Charleston Saturday! Fight to win there! The team is going through the stiffest practice held yet this fall and every man is working and hoping for a chance to be one of the winning team that will leave Friday evening. Nearly every man is eligible and as many as are in perfect condition. Capt. Davis is troubled slightly with a stiff knee but will be in condition by the end of the week.

In O. S. U. Camp

Columbus, Nov. 7.—With Captain Sorensen the only cripple, Ohio State came out of Saturday's Wisconsin conquest in good shape. "Sweeney's" leg went back on him. He forecasted that rest before the game when he remarked over at the Athletic House, "Well, boys, I don't think I'll last long today."

BUT ONE GAME THIS WEEK

Columbus, Nov. 7.—Interscholastic football in Columbus will see but one game here this week. South has a date with Newark at Indiana Park Saturday morning. West High travels to Delaware for its contest, East has an engagement at New Philadelphia, Commerce is at Ashville, while Aquinas has an open date. North's team is not scheduled, but the second team plays at London.

THE SOUTHERN CHAMPIONSHIP

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 7.—The race for the football championship of the South has narrowed to three teams, Auburn, Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech. This was brought about yesterday by one of the greatest surprises when Duke, who never has been credited with great kicking ability, booted the ball over the goal posts for the score that eliminated Georgia and kept Auburn in the fight. Vanderbilt plays Auburn Nov. 18 and should the plainsmen win, the game between Auburn and Georgia Tech here Thanksgiving day may decide the championship.

Freddie Welsh Is Willing

Toledo, Nov. 6.—Freddie Welsh will accept a boxing bout with Johnny Kilbane, only on his own terms, according to a message received last night by local promoters from Welsh's manager.

The communication was in response to an offer made by the club for a 12-round no decision bout between the two champions. The light-weight champion accepted the offer of $10,000, but his demand is that the weight should be 135 pounds at 12 o'clock the afternoon of the bout. Kilbane is calling for 133 pounds rangside, the legitimate light-weight limit.

FUMBLING

How many important football games have been lost on a fumble? Coaches who are up-to-date are devoting much time to preventing, if possible, the most dangerous error on the gridiron. A carry eleven may be strong in kicking, tucking and rushing, but all these achievements can be nullified by a fatal mistake in handling the play. Fumbling or rush often spoil a whole game.

Branch Rickey To See Delaware Game

While Ohio State is taking the Indiana test next Saturday, there will be a few other games of importance in Buckeyeedom. Up in revived Delaware the Ohio Wesleyan home-coming party will be held with George Little's Miami eleven. Little is a Wesleyan graduate. Branch Rickey is scheduled to be among those present. Wesleyan, just about Ohio's October dog, toppled the Ohio Wesleyan home-coming party day and doing it soundly. And it was the case plan to keep everything real good covered from Ohio State.

Other Ohio dates for Saturday are as follows: Case at Oberlin, Ohio at Cincinnati, M. Clout at Western Reserve, Wittenberg at Ohio Northern and Denison at Akron.

WOMEN SUFFERERS NEED SWAMP ROOT

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.
Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.
If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness and may be dependent and irritable.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr.
Kemper's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, restores health to the kidneys and is the remedy needed to overcome these conditions.

Send a fifty cent or one dollar bottle immediately from any drug store.
If you wish first to test this kind of preparation send ten cents to Dr.
Kemper and Co., Birmingham, N. Y., for sample bottle. When writing be sure to mention the Portsmouth Daily Times.

ation at Cincinnati, which he read at the meeting of the local board of health Monday afternoon, are of the opinion that a rigid quarantine regulation and the average fumigation of houses in which there has been contagious diseases are useless.

In explaining, the physician stated that in New York City they had discovered that the isolation of the patient and nurse alone got better results than quarantining the whole family. The average fumigation of houses gives the people a feeling of security. To fumigate a home properly, the physician stated that the rooms would have to be air-tight, the atmosphere under pressure and the temperature at about 77 degrees.

Miss Percis, visiting nurse of the Scioto County Anti-Tuberculosis
League, appeared before the board and urged the appointment of a city nurse. The board promised to consider the matter at another time.

Virgil Fowler, 634 Second street, was granted 30 days extension of time to install a sanitary sewer.
This was granted on account of the inability of Mr. Fowler to secure a deed for the property.

Oscar Boyer, owner of property at 1009 and 1011 Front street, was granted ten days' extension of time to cover a vault.

The mortality report shows a death rate of 16.8 per thousand. Thirty males and 12 females were reported.
Dr. H. M. Keil, city physician, reported 83 office calls, 393 house calls,
4 surgical cases, 3 obstetrical cases,
4 bacterial examinations and 4 milk inspections for October.

Dr. W. W. Smith, health officer, reported for the month 18 cases of scarlet fever, 5 cases of diphtheria, 1 case of infantile paralysis, 5 dairy inspections and 52 unsanitary conditions inspected.

Frank Burt, plumbing inspector, reported 110 inspections and a collection of $75.50.

The schedule allowed was $120.22.

BAHNER CAR IS STOLEN

A Ford touring car, belonging to John W. Bahner, of No. 1216
Twelfth street, was stolen from in front of the J. W. Bahner Realty Company's office at Gallia and Eleventh streets, Monday evening about 8 o'clock.

Mr. Bahner and several friends were in the office talking and none of the party had heard the car move away from its place in front of the building.

Mr. Bahner, as soon as he made the discovery, notified police headquarters. Patrolmen were rushed to the outskirts of the city to stand guard on all of the roads leading from the city.

Meanwhile Mr. Bahner and friends also began a search for the car, but not the slightest trace of it had been found up to Tuesday afternoon.

The car is practically a new one, Mr. Bahner having purchased it in June of this year.

VOTE OF TROOPS ON WAY TO NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 7.—The announcement that New York state troops had cast their ballots in the national and state election and that the votes under seal were already on their way to Albany, aroused unusual interest and speculation today in political circles. Several hundred federalized national guardsmen from other states, according to the dispatches from Brownsville, Texas, have completed their ballots, including the Virginia troops who have been voting for several days by mail. The sealed ballots will be distributed from Albany to the election boards in the various districts in which the militia voters live. Like delays in relation to the militia vote are said to exist in other states having troops on the border.

In the journey of life we often travel in circles; therefore do today the good that is in you. Plant your blossoms. You will come back to them by and by. HUGHES IS NEXT PRESIDENT DEMOCRATS CLAIMING OHIO

RETURNS MAKE RESULT CERTAIN

New York, Nov. 7.—The state of New York has been carried for Hughes by a plurality of more than 100,000. The returns from Ohio are insufficient to determine the result in that state. All New England states and New Jersey as well as Wisconsin and Michigan have been removed from the list of doubtful states. Unless there is a landslide for President Wilson in Pacific slope the election of Hughes seems certain.

Columbus, O., Nov. 7.—Shortly after 8 o'clock Chairman Finley wired Chairman Vance McCormick, of the National Democratic committee that Wilson will carry Ohio by more than 100,000 and that Senator Pomerene and James M. Cox will be elected.

Long Branch, N. J., Nov. 7.—At 9:05 o'clock Secretary Tammuly claimed the election of President Wilson.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

PORTSMOUTH, OHIO

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1916.

(Established April 20, 1914)

COX & WILSON WILL CARRY OHIO SAYS STATE CHAIRMAN

WILSON'S MAJORITY OVER 75,000; COX HOLDS BIG LEAD

At ten forty in a telephone conversation with Harry E. Taylor, Chairman W. L. Finley of the Democratic state committee, said that he had no advices which would cause him to change his prediction that Ohio would give President Wilson a splendid majority. He felt that his majority would exceed 75,000 and most likely would go over 100,000.

He also stated that he believed Governor Cox would be elected by a decisive majority.

His advices were that Cox was running close to Wilson and that in Democratic counties which had gone against Cox two years ago and which had caused his defeat, he had received the normal Democratic vote this year.

Mr. Finley stated that in Darke county where Mr. Cox lost two years ago by 1,700, he had won this year by more than 1,000.

In Shelby county which he lost two years ago by three hundred, he will have at least 1,000 majority.

Mr. Finley stated that Ex-Governor Cox, according to his advices, was maintaining the same ratio of gain in the Democratic counties that he lost two years ago, and he felt that he undoubtedly had been elected, as he would only lose Hamilton county by from 4,000 to 6,000 and would carry the other large cities of the state by decisive majorities.

Chairman Finley stated that President Wilson would carry Cuyahoga county by from 20,000 to 25,000; that he would carry Lucas county (Toledo) by from 12,000 to 15,000; that he would carry Montgomery county, (Dayton) by at least 7,000 and that he would carry Franklin county, (Columbus) by at least 8,000.

Mr. Finley said he believed that Senator Pomerene would also run well up with his colleagues. He said Wilson would lose Hamilton county by 8,000 to 10,000.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 7.—With 125 precincts out of a total of 546 in Hamilton county which includes Cincinnati, Hughes has 14,329, Wilson 9,928. Willis 13,940; Cox 10,393 in 125 precincts.

Herrick for senator was 17,142, Pomerene 11,872 in 150 precincts.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 7.—Two hundred out of 546 precincts in Hamilton county which includes Cincinnati gives Hughes 23,551, Wilson 16,439.

Wilson's Defeat Is Conceded In N. Y.

New York, Nov. 7.—Although President Wilson's secretary at the summer White House and Chairman McCormick made claims that complete returns would show the re-election of President Wilson the trend of the face of returns was toward Hughes and newspapers which have supported Wilson conceded his defeat.

Early in the evening a great majority for Hughes in New York was evident and the state was conceded by the Democrats.

Soon afterward Democratic supporters conceded the loss of all New England to the Hughes column, and incoming returns from middle west, although far from complete, showed the Hughes figures growing fast.

EXECUTIVE OFFICERS INSIST WILSON HAS BEEN ELECTED

Asbury Park, N. J., Nov. 7.—At ten o'clock tonight the executive offices issued the following statement:

"We believe President Wilson has been re-elected. There is nothing to alter this view. We are not so precipitate as our opponents in announcing the result."

New York, Nov. 7.—Robert W. Wooley, director of publicity of the Democratic National committee announced at 10:15 o'clock that the committee claimed 306 electoral votes for Wilson based on the reports of state and county chairmen from the New England, Middle West and North-western states.

HUGHES GETS ILLINOIS BY OVER 100,000

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 7.—Returns received up to 9:15 o'clock tonight indicate a Republican victory in Illinois by a plurality estimated by Republicans at more than 100,000 for Hughes and slightly smaller pluralities for the Republican state ticket, headed by Frank O. Lowden, for governor.

Estimates based on returns up to that hour indicated a plurality for Hughes in the state outside of Chicago of more than 100,000; while Hughes was leading slightly on incomplete Chicago returns.

The race in Chicago, however, was close. Lowden was opposed by Governor Edward F. Dunne, Democrat, who was up for re-election.

Women who voted for the first time in Illinois on the presidential issue maintained about the same ratio of plurality for Hughes or Wilson as the men. In 1912 Wilson carried Illinois by a vote of 405,048 to 386,478; for Roosevelt and 253,593 for Taft. Roosevelt in that year carried Chicago by a plurality of approximately 350,000 over Wilson.

TREMPER IS LEADING

Six precincts in city and county gave Tremper 549 and Haynes 400.

KEARNS LEADS TURNIPSEED

Five precincts in city and county gave Kearns 485 and Turnipseed 356.

The father—That young fellow who has been cutting here lately is a very fine young man. He has the right ring about him. The daughter (coquely)—Has he? Have you seen him? Is it a handsome?

Mayme—Sure I used to go with him. Did you tell him I was going to be married? Grace—I sure did. Mayme—Did he ask how soon? Grace—No, he asked how long.

RETURNS IN OHIO IN PRESIDENT RACE

Returns for president from 337 precincts out of 5570 in Ohio give: Wilson 28,488; Hughes 28,176.

NO QUESTION OF COX'S ELECTION SAYS FINLEY

Columbus, O., Nov. 7.—At 10 o'clock Democratic State Chairman W. L. Finley issued a statement saying that there is no doubt of the election of his party's candidate for Governor James M. Cox.

VOTE ON THE ANNEXATION

Five precincts in city gave 543 for annexation and 78 against it.

In New Boston precinct B gave 160 against annexation and 61 for it.

New Boston officials say that the proposition is probably lost.

HUGHES LEADS IN 19 PRECINCTS

FINLEY INSISTS THAT COX AND POMERENE CERTAIN WINNERS

Cincinnati, Nov. 7.—Early returns from all sections of the state including some precincts in the large cities indicated that Wilson probably would carry the State. This however was not conceded by Lieutenant Governor John Arnold, who issued a statement at 8:15 claiming Governor Willis and he had been re-elected by pluralities ranging from 40,000 to 50,000.

Chairman W. L. Finley of the Democratic State Committee insisted that Wilson would carry the state and wired Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic national committee that the president was sure of a majority of more than 100,000 in Ohio. He also claimed that Senator Pomerene and former Governor Cox would be elected although running behind the president. The first 175 precincts to be tabulated coming from scattered localities gave President Wilson 15,040 votes and Hughes 14,745. The returns came in slowly owing to the late hour at which the polls closed.

Unofficial estimates from Democratic county leaders in Cuyahoga and Franklin counties in which Cleveland and Columbus are situated were confident of victory for President Wilson.

In Columbus it was said he was running two to one ahead of Hughes. C. A. Sawyer, chairman of the Democratic county committee of Hamilton county, Cincinnati, conceded that Hughes would carry the county by 4,000 votes while Republican Chairman Cappelle claimed that he would have a much larger majority.

PORTSMOUTH, OHIO

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1916.

(Established April 20, 1914)

COLUMBUS, O. Nov. 7--It looks now as if vote in Ohio would decide the election between Hughes and Wilson -Columbus Dispatch

Republicans Claim 254 Votes Sure for Hughes, Democrats Pin Faith That Wilson Is A Winner

New York, Nov. 7—"Remember 1892, was the prediction of the Democratic Publicity Bureau which pointed out that in that memorable contest the next day's revised returns placed Grover Cleveland in the White House."

Just after 11 o'clock Republican headquarters absolutely claimed Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and California with a total of 254 electoral votes. That was twelve less than the 266 necessary to an election.

But the statement appended added that advices had been received from enough states to make the necessary 266.

The statement, however, did not list them.

This was the first official indication from the Republicans that the result would be so close.

The Republican managers realize that a sudden switch in the states incomplete or unheard from might increase the Wilson figures but were sure the latter figures would add to the states they were claiming.

VOTE ON GOVERNOR

Returns for governor from 337 precincts out of 5570 in Ohio give: Cox 60,905; Willis 66,507.

KEARNS AND TURNIPSEED RUNNING A CLOSE RACE

Indications at 11 o'clock pointed to a close race between A. G. Turnipseed, Dem., and C. C. Kearns, Rep., for congress. Kearns will carry Scioto by not to exceeding 1200 and probably less than that. Brown county will offset this. Mr. Turnipseed's advices were that he would break even in Clermont, Highland and Adams and would have 350 to 400 in Pike. If Brown county comes up as expected Turnipseed seems to have the better chance of winning.

ANNEXATION IS DEFEATED

Annexation was as decisively beaten in New Boston as it carried in Portsmouth.

In the two precincts in New Boston 334 votes against annexation were recorded against 147 for it, the vote being as follows: New Boston B 160 against, 61 for; New Boston A 174 against, 86 for.

This means the annexation proposition is defeated.

Wilson gained with the receipt of the first 53 precincts from Montgomery county (Dayton) which gave him 5,692; Hughes 4,567 and in 200 precincts of Franklin county (Columbus) giving him 19,835 and Hughes 14,498.

SOLID SOUTH LINES UP FOR PRES. WILSON

Lengthy and Monotonous. One of the most curious contracts entered into by an operative artist was that agreed to by Farinelli. When he visited Spain, Philip V. was suffering from mental depression, from which nothing aroused him until the arrival of Farinelli. The queen was so delighted to see her royal spouse once more interested that she engaged Farinelli at a salary of $10,000 to remain in Madrid. This he did, singing the same four songs to the king every night for ten years.

New South Wales devotes 5,138,000 acres to wheat growing.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 7—President Wilson was given the usual substantial Democratic majorities in today's elections in the southern states of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas. The Democrats gained at least one seat in congress in the defeat of James Britton for re-election from the Ninth North Carolina district by Zebulon Waverly, Democrat.

The North Carolina delegation thus becomes once more wholly Democratic. Early returns from Virginia indicated that the Democrats had retained the nine seats they already held but that congressional district which is normally Republican.

PRES. WILSON IS HOPEFUL

Long Branch, N. Y., Nov. 7.—In the face of returns up to ten o'clock claiming election of Hughes, President Wilson late tonight insisted that news from the West would change the face and wait before making any concessions.

Mr. Wilson displayed keen interest in the returns. Discouraging as well as hopeful news was sent to him by Secretary Tamm. No effort was made to conceal the fact that the outlook was not bright. Returns from western states were eagerly awaited. Out in the seclusion of Shadow Lawn the president was amid quiet, but the executive offices were besieged by an excited crowd.

G. O. P. Claim County By More Than 1,500

At Republican headquarters at 10:30 the statement was given out that Hughes would carry Scioto county from 1500 to 2000. Thirty-seven precincts in city and county it was said gave Hughes 1100 over Wilson.

GILLILAND STRONG IN THE COUNTY

At Republican headquarters at 11:30 it was stated that McCall for probate judge would carry the city, but Gilliland will pile up a big vote in the county and probably would win by from 600 to 700 votes.

HEAVY VOTE MARKS THE EARLY HOURS THROUGHOUT COUNTRY

FAVORABLE WEATHER OVER STATE AND NATION WILL BRING OUT MANY VOTERS

Columbus, O., Nov. 7.—Weather conditions throughout Ohio are favorable today and after one of the most strenuous presidential campaigns ever waged in this state, an exceptionally heavy vote is expected. Early voting bears out the prediction of political leaders that the vote will probably be the largest in the history of the state with estimates running as high as a million and a quarter votes.

In addition to the national ticket, a complete state ticket will be voted upon. While the presidential race attracts the most attention, the contests between Atlee Pomerene, Democrat, for re-election, and Myron T. Herrick and Frank B. Willis for re-election, and former Governor James M. Cox, are being closely watched. Both sides continue today to claim the election of state and national tickets by pluralities ranging up to 100,000.

New York Will Poll A Tremendous Vote

New York, Nov. 7.—Clear skies and moderate weather promised to bring out a heavy vote in New York City today in which the last presidential election more than 600,000 votes were cast. The city, both parties conceded, will, as usual, in national elections, go Democratic. Long before the polls were open many voters of the city were in line waiting to cast their ballots and predictions were that the greater part of the polls.

TWO BODIES FOUND UNDER AUTOMOBILE

Cleveland, Nov. 7.—The bodies of two persons, a man, believed to be B. W. Daily, 35, of this city, and an unidentified woman, about 20, were found beneath an overturned automobile, which had driven over the Ohio canal in South Park on over the eight foot bank. It is believed that the couple were killed by the death plunge occurring had been dead only a few minutes after midnight.

VOTE OF TROOPS ON WAY TO NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 7.—The ballots will be distributed from Albany to the election boards in the various districts in which the militia voters live. Like delays in relation to the militia vote are said to exist in other states having troops on the border. The situation, unique in American presidential elections since the civil war period, was pointed out as fraught with possibilities. Should the presidential vote in New York state, for instance, show a narrow plurality one way or the other, the completion of the state's electoral vote might be delayed.

THE TIMES WILL FLASH ELECTION RETURNS ON BULLETIN BOARD AND THROUGH ELECTION EXTRAS

ELECTION returns from the nation, state and county will be received by The Times tonight and flashed to the public on The Times Bulletin board opposite the Times office, and through the Election Extras. Over its own leased wire The Times will receive Associated Press bulletins, telling of the result of the balloting in the state and nation. Special efforts have been made to get the city and county results to the public as quick as possible and these will be announced as they are received. The Times Bulletin service, throwing returns by stereopticon on The Times Bulletin board will start promptly at 6 o'clock this evening. You are invited to attend. Also watch for The Times Election Extras.

HUGHES VOTES EARLY

New York, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Charles Evans Hughes cast his vote at 7:05 o'clock this morning in a small laundry at 716 Eighth Avenue, almost directly back of the hotel where he made his headquarters during the campaign. His ballot was numbered 13. When his attention was called to this, the Republican candidate said: "13" was his lucky number. "And I was born on Friday, too," he added. Mr. Hughes went to the polls before breakfast. When he saw the weather conditions indicating a clear cool day, he remarked: "It looks like a good Republican day." A small crowd, among whom were several newspaper photographers, greeted him as he entered the voting place.

FIRST RETURNS

BULLETIN
Pittsfield, Mass., Nov. 7.—New Ashford, the smallest town in the state, had the distinction of being the first to make its election returns today. The polls closed at 10 a. m. and the count showed: Hughes 16, Wilson 7.

In 1912 New Ashford gave Wilson 4 votes, Taft 7 and Roosevelt 6.

VOTING BRISK IN INDIANA

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 7.—Early balloting in Indianapolis was brisk. With the fair weather, a record vote was predicted.

Grip Is Found
A traveling man named Osborn appealed to the police Monday afternoon to assist him in recovering a grip. It seems that in his haste he had left one of his grips in Clay Merriam's taxi cab. Mr. Merriam found the grip and later restored it to its owner.

not be known until the official canvass six weeks hence, when the "soldier vote" would be included. While it is known that political leaders of the two great parties have given the militia vote much thought, neither side would admit that it was considering a contingency such might arise in a close vote. On November 1, there were approximately 11,000 New York guardsmen in service on the border.

NEW JERSEY CASTING A HEAVY VOTE

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 7.—Fair weather over the state gave promise of bringing the voters to the polls early and political leaders looked for a heavy vote. Reports from various sections of the state during the early hours seemed to bear out these expectations particularly in Newark, Hoboken and Jersey City, the centers of population.

EARLY VOTE BRISK IN BOSTON

Boston, Nov. 7.—The early voting in this city was brisk. The weather was fair and party leaders were unanimous in their prediction that a very large percentage of the total registration of 117,000 would be present. The polls opened at 6 a. m. and will close at 4 p. m.

In New York
Rickey has gone to New York on business in the interest of the Excelsior Shoe Company.

LIVELY VOTING IN N. H.

Manchester, N. H., Nov. 7.—Pleasant weather aided the Republican and Democratic party managers in their efforts to bring out a full vote today in New Hampshire. The balloting early in the day was lively.

QUIET IN VERMONT

Montpelier, Vermont, Nov. 7.—The quiet campaign in Vermont was reflected in a comparatively light vote in the early hours today. The sky was clear with a wintry temperature.

INTEREST IN U. S. SENATOR

Providence, R. I., Nov. 7.—Interest in the first election of a United States Senator by direct vote in Rhode Island, swelled the ranks of the early voters today to large proportions. The weather was fair.

MAINE SHOWS MUCH INTEREST

Portland, Maine, Nov. 7.—The voters of Maine, although their state election was decided in September, came out in good numbers to ballot in the presidential contest today. Excellent weather prevailed.

PRESIDENT GOES TO PRINCETON TO CAST HIS BALLOT

Women Are Voting In Illinois; Much Interest Is Shown

Chicago, Nov. 7.—By far the largest vote in the history of Illinois elections is expected today by reason of the fact that women for the first time voted for president and vice president. Pleasant weather throughout the state was also counted on by party managers to aid in bringing about a heavy vote. Approximately 2,000,000 voters have registered in the state and party leaders estimated that close to 1,800,000 votes would be recorded, of which number between 600,000 and 700,000 would be cast by women. The women, however, enjoy only partial suffrage, being permitted to vote for president and W. A. Cullen, Socialist.

DREADNOUGHTS ARE STRUCK

[BULLETIN]
London, Nov. 7.—A claim that two dreadnoughts were hit by the British submarine which yesterday was reported launching a torpedo at and striking a German dreadnought in the North Sea, is contained in a further report received from the commanding officer of the submarine, it was officially announced today. The two dreadnoughts claimed to have been struck were battleships of the Kaiser class.

WEATHER

Ohio—Fair tonight and warmer in east portion. Wednesday increasing cloudiness, probably followed by rain in west and extreme north portions.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 7.—After a vain attempt to buy coal in the open market on terms that would guarantee the city safe advance supply, the city board of control has awarded the contract for the waterworks to a local coal company at $3.50 a ton. This is an increase of more than one hundred percent over the price which the department paid a year ago.

Rome, Monday, Nov. 6 (via Paris).—An Austrian submarine and an Italian destroyer were sunk in a duel on the night of October 16, according to an official statement issued by the admiralty today. The submarine had attacked a transport which escaped.

The text of the statement follows:
"An Austrian submarine attempted on the night of October 16-17 to torpedo one of our transports conveying troops but was discovered and attacked by a convoying destroyer. The submarine and the destroyer sank while the transport reached its destination safely. The majority of the crew of the destroyer was saved and the two officers and eleven men of the crew of the submarine were made prisoner."

"On the night of November 1, our destroyers, after crossing boldly and successfully entering a mine zone and surmounting by their daring and skillful maneuvering the Fasana-Pola canal managed to enter the customary anchorage of part of the Austrian fleet. Two torpedoes were fired against one large ship and were observed to catch in the vessel's torpedo net."

"For two hours our destroyers reconnoitered within a few hundred yards of the forts and strong citadel of Pola and were only withdrawn when they had accomplished difficult and most delicate missions. Numerous powerful searchlights beat the sky and sea and batteries opened random and futile fire."

"On the night of November 3, several of our destroyers sank a large Austrian steamer anchored at Durazzo under the shelter of defenses and a mine zone. Enemy destroyers came out and were attacked by our ships which forced their retreat. Our destroyers then returned safely to their base. On November 5 three enemy destroyers appeared at dawn before Santa Piddi-mare and began to bombard that part of the coast. One of our armored trains rushed up, engaged and drove off the enemy. Two destroyers were hit and one was assisted with a heavy list being assisted by others. The enemy fire was ineffective, one railroad man being slightly wounded and small damage done to private property."

WHY THE CONFLICT?

Immediately prior to the election day, the electorate and such others as concerned themselves in the campaign were regaled by the heads of the party organizations, national, state and county, with estimates and predictions of the outcome. All were unremarkable in the fact that they followed an ancient and established custom, strangely enough accepted reverently in reverence and faith, in that they were exactly in conflict, the Democrat predicting one thing and the Republican another thing altogether opposite.

We are not saying there was not a certain degree of sincerity in them all, but little confidence should have been reposed in them because they had to be. It would be the damnation for any mouthpiece of a political organization to frankly admit his party was licked clear out of his mind. He might be forgiven, paroled and given a job for any other crime, but that one forever would bar the paradise of office against him.

Safety first for himself is the law of the party man, as well as some others. And that is why we say he isn't altogether insincere in his foretellings. He starts out with a purpose to be optimistic, hopeful and believing and he never fails to accomplish. When chosen head of the organization he starts out his words to perform because the big fellows of his party have put him forward as the only real Moses known since the children of Israel were led out of Egypt, found a way across the river Jordan and opened a path through the desert. The first party man comes in tells him things are looking good, and that makes him feel better. The next says things are in fine shape and that bounces him up. The committee meets and as one voice, each not wishing to appear ill before his fellows, all declare the outlook was never so cheering. That convicts him. The rainbow of promise spans the skies and once more the sun of victory is sure to shine. Hence the prophecies that disappear and are forgot as are the mist and the cloud, and the world wags on.

THERE IS NO EXCEPTION

Every campaign has its humorous incidents, if we will but so regard them. This just closed was no exception to the rule. Theodore Roosevelt went rampaging and raging up and down the country, leaving many a passion to tatters in denouncing Secretary of War Baker for certain allegations concerning the character of the American soldiers in the revolutionary war. It is true that, the amiable and soft spoken secretary denies either the words or the purpose of the language imputed to him but that doesn't make a bit of difference. If he didn't he any how thought them, or ought to, according to the dictum of the Terrible One and that is sufficient. But still it is not the fun of the turn of the tide, which is the grotesque position in which Roosevelt has placed himself, as revealed by some reading the learned editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer is able to recall. This scholar turning back to the pages of the "Life of Governor Morris," of which the author is none other than Theodore Roosevelt himself, finds his rage has been misplaced and misdirected and that he should be denouncing himself instead of the secretary of war. In this work or book, to quote his exact language, the author says the self same revolutionary soldiers "had to be goaded into line," meaning they were poltroons and cowards when it came to fighting. Neither is this all, according to so renowned and infallible an authority as the colonel. In spite of the noble cause for which they were expected to both fight and die, these self same soldiers got disgustingly homesick and deserted Washington's army in shoals. Of course, the campaign being over, no patriotic societies will be denouncing Roosevelt for his view of the revolutionary patriots. He's ever immune anyway.

Yes, a lot of fellows won big on the election. We are pained to realize that a lot of fellows also lost on the election. But this chap was not one of the latter class. Years and years ago he made a lead pipe cinch bet and his tender conscience was much troubled as to whether or not it was strictly honorable to take the money of one so foolish. The other fellow didn't have any scruples of that kind, judging from the glee with which he took down the whole pot. Since then yours truly has fought shy of the election wager.

The price of doughnuts has been made larger, but conversely the hole in them has not been made smaller.

If the other side had got a moderate portion of what it claimed the result would have been different.

Some one start agitation right now for the elimination forever and aye of the straw ballot.

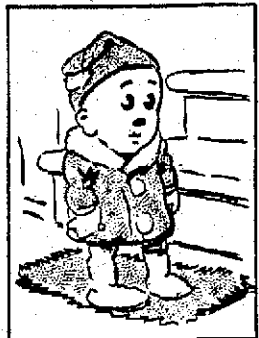

We suggest that the improvements on Sixth street, started many months ago and at last completed, is scarce a pretext for leaving the debris and debris therefrom to cumber and disorder the street for other months.

If you are going to do any cleaning and painting up this year there is no time for delaying it further.

Answering the question, "Who were the three friends mentioned by Walt Whitman in his poem, 'Tent on the Beach,' written about 1887, the Philadelphia Press says:
"The 'loitered magazine' looking over an ever widening realm of books' is certainly James T. Will pay for the chance to heal Catarrrh

After an experience of 25 years, during which time 50 million Americans have used Kondon's Catarrrh Jelly, the manufacturers of this remedy feel so sure that it will relieve catarrrh—that they offer to pay for a chance to prove its benefit to any catarrrh sufferer. They announce that any resident of this community can go to almost any drug store and get a complimentary trial can at the expense of the manufacturers. If the druggist has no gratuitous packages, the person may buy a 25 cent tube with the unqualified understanding that if that first tube does not do that person more than a dollar's worth of good, he or she can get their quarter back from either the druggist, or the Kondon Company at Minneapolis. Over 35,000 druggists know Kondon's Catarrrh Jelly is effective, harmless, clean and pleasant to apply—and they know the Kondon people will gladly live up to this offer—"quarter back if not worth a dollar." NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O. O. MCINTYRE.

New York, Nov. 7.—Francis Albertanti, who was graduated from an office boy post to be one of America's leading athletic authorities and who writes under the name of "Francis," is an intimate friend of Antonio Scotti, the singer.

Not long ago Francis and Scotti and a group of friends journeyed to Long Beach to take a dip in the ocean. It was a cold day and very few were on the beach. While the singer was in the bathhouse undressing the fresh ozone or something inspired him to warble.

People pay $6 a night to hear him at the Metropolitan, but here he was bursting forth into an air from a popular opera. His voice was never in better condition and a few stragglers along the boardwalk stood petrified.

Even the wild waves quit saying what they say as the notes reached a higher and higher crescendo or whatever that is that the reach. At the end there was a hush and then the voice of a roughneck boomed forth from a neighboring bathhouse.

"Say, whatever that is you're trying to kill me it outside. You'll get that bathroom all bloody."

Scotti refused to take the encore of his enthusiastic friends who applauded until they were limp.

It was just before noon at the busy corner of Fifth Avenue and Forty-Second street. A broad shouldered little man picked this point for starting a physical clean-up. He began wallowing passersby with great enthusiasm, with the result that many New Yorkers were forced to break their resolution never to enter the Public Library.

Policeman Mahoney after stopping several of the crusader's smashes with his chest finally took him to court.

"What's his name?" asked the magistrate.

"I dunno," said Mahoney.

"All he can say is, two words, Eskimo and whiskey."

"All he appears to have been been saying is the last one," suggested the court. There was a slip of paper in his pocket giving his name as Steve Metek. He was an Eskimo and quieted down after given a supply of gum drops.

There was a banquet in one of the banquet rooms of the Hotel Majestic the other evening and a distinguished looking man inquired at the desk for the chair of the committee.

"What is your name?" asked the clerk.

"Morgan," was the reply.

"The initials?"

"J. P."

"Same as the big financier, eh?"

"Yes, just the same," said the man with a smile. It was J. P. Morgan, Jr., himself.

Miss Mary Nash, the actress, has always been used to paying 4 cents a package for hairpins. The other day she went to a store to buy some and was told the price had gone up a cent. She demanded an explanation.

"It's the war," said the clerk. "My goodness," came from Miss Nash. "Is it possible the soldiers have begun wearing hairpins?"

Bide Dudley, the newlywed, had some friends to dinner the other night. After the meal the guests assembled in the library. Then Dudley called a man servant and said:

"Quick Watson, the needle!" And a moment later the phonograph ground out the air of a popular opera.

And say, when I am past and gone, And Lives lost cruise is through, I'll not be barred from Heaven's cause I wear the Navy Blue.

So, when you meet a sailor man, I'd mind, if I were you, That God don't make 'em better than The men in Navy Blue.

Gun Woman's Victim Suffers Much Pain; Recovery Doubtful

Mrs. Deana Holman, whom a next door neighbor, Mrs. Laura Farmer, during a fit of jealousy, shot in front of the latter's home on Ninth street Saturday night, is not out of danger. While Mrs. Holman's temperature was reported normal, no change has taken place in her condition. She is still having slight hemorrhages from the wound in her abdomen and complained a great deal of severe pains Monday afternoon. These ceased towards evening, but returned again later in the night, so that she rested only fairly well, though seemed to be feeling a little better Tuesday morning. Dr. James W. Fitch, the attending physician, is not holding out any encouragement to the relatives. Mrs. Holman appears greatly worried about herself. No one has discussed the shooting affair with her since she was removed to Hempstead hospital.

Mrs. Farmer is again bedfast at the home of her father-in-law, Harvey Farmer, of No. 916 Third street. After going through the ordeal of a preliminary hearing in the mayor's court Monday, at the close of which she was held to the grand jury in the sum of $1,000, which she furnished, she was on the verge of collapse. Dr. Ira Martin, the attending physician, advised her to return to bed and keep as quiet as possible. He gave orders to permit no visitors. Mrs. Farmer soon after Dr. Martin reached her side Tuesday morning, inquired as to the condition of Mrs. Holman, then exclaimed, "I hope that she gets well."

Mrs. Farmer's husband is remaining close at home. The other woman's husband, Stephen Holman, looked after affairs at his motion picture theater, "The Parrot," as usual Monday night. He already has received several offers for the theater since he indicated a desire to dispose of it, or at least his holdings. Mrs. Farmer having become part owner at the time she recently sued her husband for alimony.

Unless the last grand jury, which heard the several recent murder cases is recalled, the present shooting will not be taken up until January. Sheriff E. W. Smith said, however, Tuesday, that the grand jury was not discharged, but only excused, and that it was likely to be recalled some time in December.

Health Board Will Consider Appointment Of City Nurse

Health officers throughout the country, according to Dr. W. W. Smith in his report of the last meeting of the American Health Association at Cincinnati, which he read at the meeting of the local board of health Monday afternoon, are of the opinion that a rigid quarantine regulation and the average fumigation of houses in which there has been contagious diseases are useless. In explaining the physician stated that in New York City they had discovered that the isolation of the patient and nurse alone got better results than quarantining the whole family. The average fumigation of houses gives the people a feeling of security. To fumigate a home properly, the physician stated that the rooms would have to be air-tight, the atmosphere under pressure and the temperature at about 77 degrees. Miss Pervis, visiting nurse of the Scioto County Anti-Tuberculosis League, appeared before the board and urged the appointment of a city nurse. The board promised to consider the matter at another time. Virgil Fowler, 634 Second street, was granted 30 days extension of time to install a sanitary sewer. This was granted on account of the inability of Mr. Fowler to secure a deed for the property. Oscar Boyer, owner of property at 1009 and 1011 Front street, was granted ten days' extension of time to cover a vault. The mortality report shows a death rate of 16.8 per thousand. Thirty males and 12 females were reported. Dr. H. M. Keil, city physician, reported 23 office calls, 293 house calls, 4 surgical cases, 3 obstetrical cases, 4 bacterial examinations and 4 milk inspections for October. Dr. W. W. Smith health officer, reported for the month 18 cases of scarlet fever, 5 cases of diphtheria, 1 case of infantile paralysis, 5 dairy inspections and 52 unsanitary conditions inspected. Frank Bart, plumbing inspector, reported 116 inspections and a collection of $75.50. The schedule allowed was $420.22. Plumbing license bonds for $500 each of J. W. Bahner Realty Company's office at Gallia and Eleventh streets, Monday evening about 8 o'clock. Mr. Bahner and several friends were in the office talking and none of the party had heard the car move away from its place in front of the building. Mr. Bahner, as soon as he made the discovery, notified police headquarters. Patrolmen were rushed to the outskirts of the city to stand guard on all of the roads leading from the city. Meanwhile, Mr. Bahner and friends also began a search for the car, but not the slightest trace of it had been found up to nine o'clock Tuesday morning. The car is practically a new one, Mr. Bahner having purchased it in June of this year.

BROADWAY PREPARES FOR BIG FETE NIGHT

New York, Nov. 7.—Broadway hotels, restaurants and theatres prepared today for what promises to be the biggest fete night in recent years, the new year's event. At one well known hostelry arrangements have been made to accommodate 5,000 persons and election returns will be thrown upon screens in several spacious rooms. Secretary of State Lansing, who with Mrs. Lansing will come from Watertown, New York, after he has cast his ballot will receive the returns, it was announced, in company with Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic National Committee and Colonel E. THIEF ENTERS JORDAN HOME

The home of George R. Jordan, of 1411 McConnell avenue, and a member of the commission firm of Leitch & Jordan, was the scene of a bold robbery early Tuesday morning. When Mr. Jordan awoke Tuesday morning he was surprised to find the pockets of his clothes, which he had kept on a chair near his bed, had been rifled. Twenty dollars in paper and the empty pocket-book placed back in his trousers pocket. Two dollars in change had also been taken from the trousers, but his watch and other jewelry in the room were not disturbed. The robber also took Mr. Jordan's coat and shoes, leaving his own coat lying on the floor of the hall adjacent to the bed-room. The robber's shoes were left outside under the window through which he entered the cottage bedroom. Mr. Jordan retired at a late hour and left a bright light burning. Mrs. Jordan and a nurse slept in an adjoining room, and the latter was up about the house at different times during the night, as late as 5 o'clock Tuesday morning, attending a newly-born baby of the household, so that it is supposed it was after that hour that the robbery was committed. The robber left the house through the front door, which he unlocked from the inside. Patrolman Floyd Shonkwiler was on the scene early and began an investigation. He took charge of the robber's coat and shoes.
